Police Defuse Boston 'Swim-in'

BOSTON (UPI) — First there was name-calling, then bottles began flying. But mounted police and formations of helmeted officers, some wading up to their waists, managed to defuse a "swim-in" without serious injury.

The police Sunday patiently but relentlessly pushed thousands of blacks and whites from Carson Beach. Authorities said 10 persons were arrested on minor charges and 40 — including 27 policemen — injured, most of them suffering cuts and bruises.

Up to 4,000 whites and 2,000 blacks crowded the area, according to an estimate by Barry. The demonstration was planned by civil rights leaders, because of racial incidents at the beach the previous two weekends.

The police "really earned their pay today just standing in (90-degree) heat," said one woman lounging in a bathing suit on a beach chair 200 yards from the South Boston "swimin."

"There were upwards of 800 police today," said Charles Barry, state public safety commissioner. It "was an indication of what the law enforcement community intends to do" when citywide desegregation of public schools begins in three weeks, he said.

Communist Headquarters Burned

Portugal Riots Spread

LISBON (UPI) — An angry mob of thousands of anti-Communists broke through police and army lines in the northern Portugese city of Braga today and hurled flaming bottles of gasoline at the Communist headquarters until the building was engulfed in flames.

Police said the mobs splattered the building with Molotov cocktails and blocked fire trucks from coming into the area until the building was burning out of control. They said the fate of the Communists inside the building was unknown.

"They did not come out the front door," a police spokesman said. "We do not know what happened to them."

A Socialist in Braga said he understood the Communists were able to escape from a back door in the headquarters and have fled from the area. He blamed the angry outburst on the government decision to bring in leftist Marines during the weekend to protect the Communists.

It was the worst anti-Communist violence in weeks in protest against the leftist three-man ruling military junta's efforts to impose a Soviet-style Peoples Republic on Portugal despite the heavy anti-Communist vote in last spring's election.

The wave of anti-Communist rioting spread to more than 40 towns in the last three week and brought appeals from moderate officers to the leftist extremists to modify their stand. Those appeals were rejected by the ruling leftist elements.

Police said the crowd in Braga charged the building after the Communists — who were supposed to have been disarmed by troops during the night — again opened fire on the demonstrators. They said three persons, including one soldier, were injured.

Tough left-wing Marines originally dispersed the crowds before dawn today by firing teargas from their armored cars and shooting volleys into the air with automatic weapons. With the situation apparently calm, the Marines withdrew to Porto, 30 miles to the southwest, leaving security to local troops.

Police said casualties inflicted by the Marines brought to 26 the number of persons wounded during the night. The Marines shot a policeman in the lung, burned a woman with a teargas grenade and hit five persons with gunfire including French news photographer Jacques Baker and Norwegian photographer Einar Braathen.

Communists firing shotguns from inside the headquarters earlier injured 20 persons, including women, children and two other European news photographers, but failed to disperse the crowd of several thousand.

The Marines were then brought in from Porto to help the Communists defend their building.

"The Marines were responsible for what happened," a Socialist spokesman said. "They arrived shooting and enraged the population."

The Marines were sent north last week after army units stationed in the region refused to contain anti-Communist crowds and, in some cases, joined them.

The Socialist spokesman said the local troops did not try to intervene when the crowds began gathering again after the marines left at dawn today.

He said several explosions were heard inside the building as it burned to the ground and that they were believed to have caused by grenades stored by the Communists.

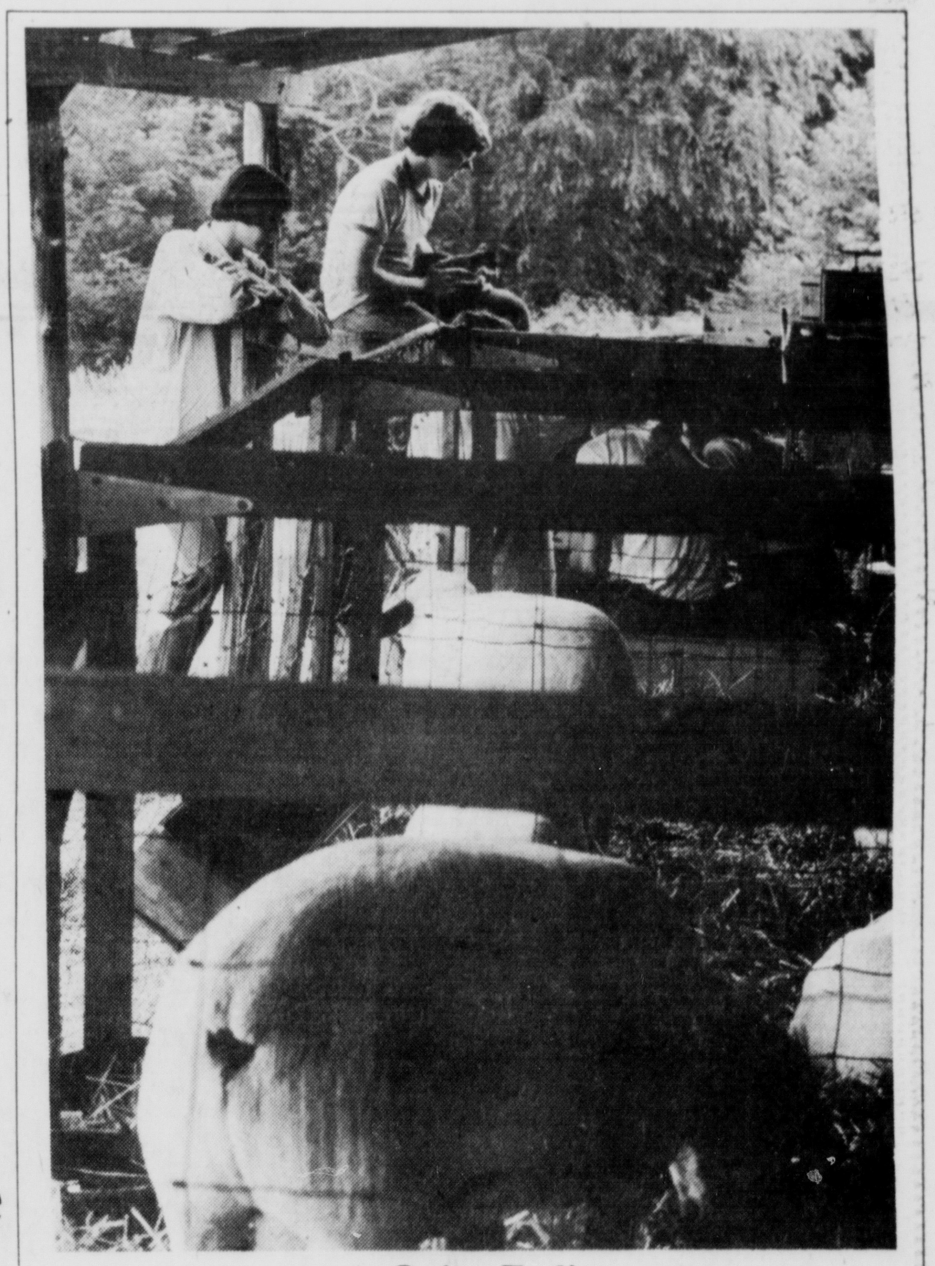

The anti-Communist attacks that have hit more than 40 towns in the last three weeks reflect growing opposition to the government's left-wing policies aimed at turning Portugal into Soviet-style state.

The northern branch of the Communist party said its offices or booths were attacked in Porto, Penafiel and Mocao Saturday night and early today.

In Braga, the crowds dispersed and the troops withdrew shortly before dawn.

Police there said the town was "more or less calm."

"We are all trying to get some rest, because we will probably be working again tonight," one police official said.

A Quiet Ending

Catskill Center Director Hits NYC Water Release

HOBART

The executive director of the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development (CCCD) has labeled New York City's recent announcement that it would release an additional 10 million gallons of water from its Neversink Reservoir during the summer months as "a public relations gesture aimed at appeasing upstate residents."

New York City "will have to become more conservation minded before it can hope to overcome the political opposition it has generated as a result of its past policies," stated Peter R. Borelli.

Robert A. Low, administrator of the New York City Environmental Protection Agency, announced the increased water releases at a press conference July 30 in Margaretville. He said the new policy would increase water flow of the Neversink River, improving the habitat for trout.

But Borelli contends that the proposed increased releases do not represent a significant change in the city's policy toward the Catskill region environment.

Last year, according to Borelli, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation determined that New York City could meet its water supply needs and still increase releases from the Cannonsville, Neversink and Pepacton Reservoirs by three to five times during the summer and by ten to 16 times during the winter. "The additional 10 million gallon per day release," he said, "is only about 30 percent of what the DEC says is required."

Borelli further maintained that the city's water management policies are guided by "a double environmental standard." On the one hand, he said, the city actively pursues its authority in controlling the discharge of sewage in the reservoir watersheds. But, at the same time, its policies concerning releases of water from the reservoirs have had an adverse impact on water quality standards.

"Releases from the Shandaken Tunnel and from the Cannonsville, Pepacton and Neversink Reservoirs have been irregular and damaging to water quality and aquatic life," Borelli continued, "In addition, the city has ignored the recommendations of numerous task forces and commissions calling for more control and less waste of water once it reaches the city.

If the city were to follow good conservation measures, it would need the same amount of water in the year 2,000 that it consumed in 1972."

Low also announced at the time that, in the future, the city will not close the Shandaken Tunnel without first consulting with the DEC. A shutdown of that type occurred last fall, leaving an estimated 10,000 fish floundering in the dried-up Esopus creekbed.

Borelli, however, made no comment on that aspect of Low's statement.

In a separate release, however, Dr. Sherret S. Chase, CCCD president, said that the recent demise of the proposed Tocks Island Lake project—which would have provided flood protection, water supply, electric power and recreation along the Delaware River—is beneficial to the Catskill region.

"The Tocks project," said Chase, "would have detrimentally affected a large rural region in New York which would receive no benefit from the project, as the benefits are for out-of-basin, or downstream localities in New Jersey and Pennsylvania."

An 'Inspirational' Visit

FORT SMITH, Ark. (UPI) — President Ford made a 45-minute "inspirational" visit Sunday to thousands of Vietnamese refugees at nearby Ft. Chaffee. They cheered, clapped and waved to him.

Ford stripped off his jacket in the 98-degree heat as he stopped en route to a working vacation in Vail, Colo., to pay his first visit to a refugee camp.

An estimated 18,000 Vietnamese lined the road for three miles behind restrainiing ropes outside the fort to watch Ford arrive in his black limousine.

Many cheered, clapped and waved as Ford passed. Others smiled. The younger refugees wore the blue jeans and other casual western dress of their new land, while older ones wore native garb and held umbrellas against the sun.

Inside the relocation center, cheers welled up from time to time as Ford moved from one facility to another. A crowd of about 200 held up hand-lettered signs reading "Vietnamese Fishermen Welcome President Gerald Ford" and similar greetings.

Outside a day care center, Vietnamese youngsters sang a song about coconuts in English to Ford's delight.

Asked his impression of the camp, Ford told a reporter: "It makes all the efforts of so many people really worthwhile. It's so inspirational to see so many young people and old people getting an opportunity to be a part of America."

As Ford toured a hospital ward, an elderly Vietnamese man wearing blue pajamas stopped him, shook his hand and said in halting English, "All of the people at Ft. Chaffee thank you very much for your help, and we pray for you, your family and your people."

Emerging from a barracks, Ford drew more applause and a long, sighing "aaahh" from a crowd gathered there.

Ford told Donald D. MacDonald, senior civil coordinator at Ft. Chaffee, "I want to thank you on behalf of all Amercans who I understand properly and enthusiastically opened their hearts to the thousands who suffered adversity with us."

Vu Tring Ky, 67, handed Ford a letter asking that refugees be given plots of land as settlers under the Homestead Act.

Too Much Sun . . . Too Much Rain

By UPI

A relentless sun beat down on parched crops in parts of the corn belt today and even magic couldn't end the dry spell that has left a projected record corn crop to wither in the heat.

But residents of Kentucky had the opposite problem as heavy rains touched off scattered flooding and left at least one person — a 3-year-old boy — dead.

Hot, dry weather enveloped most of the nation Sunday. The risk of rangeland fire rose to the danger point from South Dakota to Oklahoma and shippers were advised to expect serious problems with cattle.

Corn belt farmers who were hoping for soaking rains to end a drought to save dwindling crops had little to be optimistic about.

Corn yields — expected to be a record just a little more than a month ago — had dwindled by 50 to 60 percent in some drought-seared areas of Iowa and Missouri and dry weather also cut into crop production in portions of Kansas and South Dakota.

In Iowa — the nation's top corn producer — people were getting desperate for rain.

The staff of the Des Moines Children's zoo donned costumes and picked up snakes Saturday to stage a modified Hopi rain dance.

Some rains moistened eastern and southeastern Iowa but not a drop was in the offing for Des Moines.

Showers with occasional thunderstorms dampened the Gulf Coast states and the area east of the Mississippi River into the Ohio Valley and central Great Lakes Sunday and Ida Grove, Iowa, reported 2.79 inches of rain. Correctionville, Iowa, had 2.75 inches.

Thunderstorms touched off flash flooding in Kentucky Sunday.

A 3-year-old Paris, Ky., boy drowned Sunday when a flash flood swept his family's stalled car off a small creek crossing in Nicholas County near the Harrison County line.

State police said Bobby Jean Bretz drowned when his father, Kent Harney, 27, became exhausted and lost his grip on the boy in the swirling waters of the normally placid Bobtown and Morningglory creeks.

Harney, his common-law wife and their 15-month-old son were rescued.

Indian Court Allows Challenge

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — The Indian supreme court overruled lawyers for Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today, setting the stage for a possible confrontation with her iron-fisted regime.

In a 50-minute session, the five-man court agreed to hear a challenge to a constitutional amendment nullifying Mrs. Gandhi's two court convictions for corrupt campaign practices.

The challenge was presented by Shani Bhushan, a lawyer for imprisoned socialist leader Raj Narain.

He argued that the amendment "erodes the judicial authority of the Supreme Court."

The amendment was rushed through both houses of parliament last week, ratified by a majority of the state legislatures Saturday, and signed into law Sunday by President Fakhruddin Ali Ahmed.

It stipulates that election court appeals against the country's president, vice president, prime minister or speaker of the lower house shall be "null and void."

Speaking after a hearing today, Bhushan said the bench agreed to hear Narain's challenge Aug. 25.

An estimated 300 police on duty around the three-story red and cream-colored court building barred some 50 foreign newsmen from attending the hearing but made no attempt to prevent them from talking with government and opposition attorneys after the session adjourned.

Bhushan said he based his challenge on a 1973 supreme court case known as the "13 judges case," which held that the fundamental structure of India's constitution cannot be changed.

L.C. Goyal, assistant to Mrs. Gandhi's chief attorney, said the case to be heard Aug. 25 was different from Mrs. Gandhi's appeal of her two convictions on corrupt campaign practices.

Peace Agreement Draft Session

By UPI

Two senior Israeli officials flew to Washington today to begin drafting the possible technical language of an interim peace agreement with Egypt.

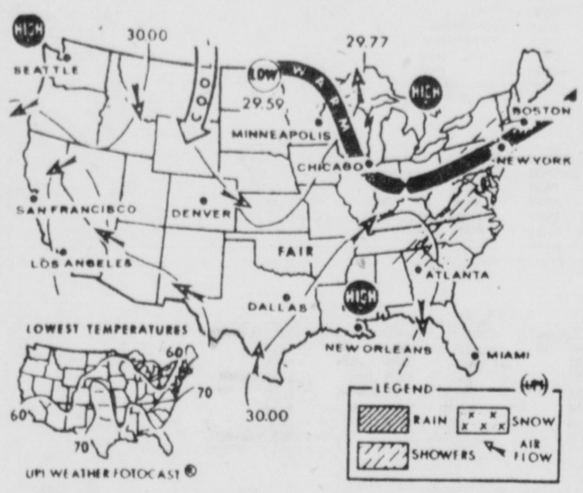

Mordechai Gazit, director-general of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's office, and Meir Rosen, legal advisor to the Foreign Ministry, said they would meet with Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco in Washington.

Gazit, in a brief news conference before leaving Tel Aviv's Ben Gurion airport, said the talks would be "within the framework of the efforts to achieve an agreement."

"One should not look at it as a dramatic turning point but as one of the steps in the process of getting an agreement," he said.

But government sources in Tel Aviv said the mission would attempt to work out the technical language of an accord before Secretary of State Henry Kissinger seals the pact with a new Middle East mission.

Rabin told newsmen Sunday Egypt and Israel have made progress in the negotiations.

Bloodhounds Join Hurley Search

By Matt Spireng

HURLEY

The search for 70-year-old Harvey Frederickson of Ulster Trailer Park entered its second week today, with state police using bloodhounds in an attempt to track down the elderly man who left his home last Monday, telling his wife he was going fishing.

Troopers continued to concentrate their search in a heavily wooded area off Dug Hill Road in the vicinity of where Frederickson's car was found abandoned last Monday. What has been described as a suicide note was found in the car and a shotgun Frederickson reportedly took with him was missing from the car.

The Ulster County Sheriff's Department and a search and rescue team from the Department of Environmental Conservation, which had been intensively combing the woods for five days, called off their efforts Friday.

State police, who had not previously become involved in the efforts to locate the elderly man, took up the search on Saturday along with volunteers after Frederickson's wife requested their aid when other agencies ceased looking for her husband.

State police said a helicopter was used over the weekend and about 40 persons took part in the search.

Meanwhile, in other area police matters:

A former North Carolina resident who had been staying with a friend in Port Ewen for the past several months was found dead Sunday morning in a car parked outside the River Road residence. State police said Jerry Weaver, 33, of Cooleemee, N.C. was the victim of an apparent suicide. A hose was connected to the exhaust pipe of the car and extended into the vehicle. Weaver had been despondent of late, police said, over difficulties in finding work.

***

Two young girls, ages 12 and 13, were charged with juvenile delinquency early Sunday by sheriff's deputies. Deputies said they stopped a car in the Town of Shandaken on a routine traffic check and found that the 13-year-old was driving it, with the 12-year-old as the only passenger. Deputies called in a tow truck to remove the vehicle, and when the truck from the Alamo Service Station in Phoenicia arrived at the scene, it was discovered that the car had allegedly been stolen from the parking lot of the service station. The girls were turned over to their parents pending court action.

***

In Kingston, Fred Smith, 27, of Mt. Marion Park and Phillip G. Lent, 24, of Lake Katrine were arrested early Sunday by patrolmen on charges of fourth degree criminal mischief, possession of burglar's tools and possession of stolen property after they were caught allegedly trying to break open a coin telephone on Albany Avenue. Police said they allegedly had property stolen from the telephone company garage in their possession when arrested.

***

In New Paltz, Thomas Arnold, 28, of Rochester was arrested on multiple charges early Sunday, including resisting arrest, obstructing governmental administration and five traffic violations after he allegedly sped off and was chased for 12 miles along the Thruway after being stopped on a routine traffic check by New Paltz Police.

***

In Kingston, Pauline Landsman, 56, of 1 Albany Avenue escaped injury Sunday when she swerved her car to avoid an oncoming auto on Washington Avenue and struck a utility pole, severing it.

***

Also in Kingston, detectives are investigating burglaries discovered Sunday at the Garden of Eden Tavern, 179 Abeel Street, and Jerry Martin Pontiac, 708 Broadway. Some $200 was reported taken from the Garden of Eden. A car was reported taken from the auto firm.

Property Depths Are Increased

ACCORD

Despite opposition from the Ulster County Planning Board, the Rochester Town Board unanimously passed a proposal to increase business property depths from 300 to 600 feet and expressed no opposition to the proposed rezoning of the Howard Terwilliger property from residential to business.

Both the county and Rochester planning boards have indicated that they felt that the present 300-foot depth for business property is sufficient. However, the Rochester Town Board feels otherwise and voted 5-0 at its August meeting to override the county's recommendation.

The board said it felt that existing businesses are too close to the road; traffic problems were resulting, businesses are discouraged from coming into the town because of limited footage and there is a serious problem of trucks having to unload in insufficient space.

Terwilliger had requested that six acres of his Route 209 property in Kerhonkson be rezoned from R2 to Bi. The county planners reportedly opposed the proposal "for safety reasons." Supervisor Wilfred Neff said that the adverse view of the county board means the town board will have to approve the change by a least a four to one vote, rather than a simple majority.

The town board is waiting for an opinion from the town planners and will meet in special session Thursday, Aug. 21 at 8 p.m. in the town meeting room to act on the Terwilliger request.

In other business, the town board:

- Discussed the need for an overall review of the town's existing zoning ordinance.
- Is studying a proposal to require that a permit be obtained for public assemblage of 300 or more persons. The resolution is intended to avoid repetition of the July 3 rock concert which resulted in repercussion throughout the area.
- Turned down a proposal to freeze all 1976 wages for town employes.
- Voted to apply Donovan Plan funds in the amount of $19,597 to road repairs and maintenance.
- Agreed to name the town recreation park after the late scoutmaster, Alexander Zaharuck.
- Will check out the Rondout Creek as a possible source of power for electricity.
- Voted to join the Concerned Consumers of Ulster County in its suit against Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company with the board joining as users of electricity rather than as a town.

Out of Line

"We will firmly resist efforts by any group of countries to exploit the machinery of the United Nations for narrow political interests or parliamentary manipulation." So declared President Ford at the recent swearing-in ceremony for our new ambassador to the U.N., Patrick Moynihan.

It is becoming clear that when the U.N. General Assembly convenes in September, Mr Moynihan's presence will not be the only change which other nations will see in the delegation from the United States of America. The President, Secretary of State Henry Kissenger and Mr. Moynihan himself have been speaking a tough, new language in discussing our policy toward the U.N.

Mr. Kissinger spoke with a frankness not often heard from diplomats when he sized up the U.N. in a recent speech at Milwaukee. Americans, he said, are tired of the "inflammatory rhetoric" hurled at their country by Third World delegates to the U.N. The developing countries claim to be "nonaligned" but are actually lined up rigidly in a bloc subjecting the industrialized nations to "lopsided, loaded voting, biased results and arbitrary tactics." They "threaten to turn the U.N. into a weapon of political warfare rather than a healer of political conflict and a promoter of human welfare."

All of this is true, and the administration is now signaling that Uncle Sam is no longer going to turn the other cheek. Mr. Moynihan has indicated that the U.S. reaction may be severe if the Third World bloc, with the Arab nations calling the tune, carries out a threat to oust Isreal from the General Assembly this fall.

The issue goes beyond any ganging up on Israel, however. U.N. agencies have become infected with what one observer has identified as "a new Cold War" in which developing countries are trying to blame the more advanced nations for their economic problems and demanding a redistribution of the world's wealth.

To declare that our role in the U.N. is going to change s easier than defining exactly what the new role should be. Withdrawing from the U.N. would be self-defeating. To cut our financial support might be less effective than we think. The oil-rich Arab nations, eager to expand their influence, would have no problem taking up the slack.

We offer other assets to the U.N. that the Third World sorely needs. One is the authority of our leadership, a rational voice in international affairs. Another is the technology and scientific spirit that we contributed to U.N. undertakings. Another is the humanitarianism that infuses our approach to international problems, especially in the Third World.

Welded into a majority bloc, the "nonaligned" nations may think they can make the U.N. whatever they want it to be. They are mistaken. What the U.N. becomes depends what advanced nations like the United States contribute to its deliberation, its efforts to resolve international disputes and its program to improve the lot of humanity. One way to impress that fact upon the Third Worlld is to begin telling it like it is, and we are glad to see that process getting under way.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Police Gadgets Instead of Training

By Jack Anderson with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON—With crime on the rampage, the top officials at the Law Enforcement Assistance Adminsitration are too busy fighting one another to devote much effort to fighting crime.

The agency's Chief, Richard W. Velde, is preoccupied with a bureaucratic purge. He has drafted dismissal letters, according to insiders, for at least four senior officials.

The letters have been held up by the Justice Department, which is trying to bring peace to the agency. But the situation is so chaotic that the General Accounting Office has stepped in.

Velde is a loud law-and-order man who believes crime can best be defeated with Dick Tracy gadgets. He wants to provide local lawmen with fancy paraphernalia.

For example, he approved a wonder wristwatch, which would provide the cop on the move with a digital read-out of his blood pressure, pulse rate and body temperature—in case he should wish to check on the state of his health as well as the time of the day.

The amazing watch, called "A Personal Fitness Monitor," will cost the taxpayers $300,000 to develop.

Velde, perhaps mindful of the police nickname "flatfoot," also has launched an exhaustive search for "the proper shoe" for lawmen. His plans call for 300 pairs of shoes to be tested in the field by different police groups.

This doesn't mean that Velde expects the nation's police to fight crime on foot. He is also developing 20 prototype police cars "to improve the safety, economy and utility of the patrol vehicle.":

Velde is also pushing new protective gear, which was designed after extensive tests on goats at the Army's Edgewood Arsenal. The program killed 100 animals and cost $1.5 million.

Several senior officials believe less money should be spent on police gadgets and more on police training. Velde has sought to solve the controversy by firing his critics.

This has held up the expenditure of approximately $100 million from last year's budget and has created management chaos at the LEAA.

The auditors from the Genral Accounting Office, meanwhile, are also investigating allegations that Velde brought political pressure to bear in the contracting process.

Footnote: A spokesman for Velde confirmed that "charges are being considered." He denied that the agency was paralyzed by internal dissension. An Army spokesman said the goats were "anaesthetized" before being shot and were then "humanely euthanized."

COUNTERFEITING KING: Underworld sources, whose information always has been reliable, have told us about an amazing Canadian printer, king of the counterfeiters, who has nettedmore than $20 million printing phony currency and securities.

According to an insider's account, the counterfeiter is so talented at his trade that he has gone 20 years without arousing suspicion. He is now about 50 years old and operates out of the Toronto area.

He produces a colorful array of bogus paper, we are told, including travelers checks, commercial checks, stock certificates and foreign currency. He seldom touches U.S. and Canadian currency in order not to stir up the authorities any more than necessary.

He has bilked some of the biggest businesses around, including American Express, First National City Bank of New York, General Electric and International Telephone and Telegraph.

Our underworld contacts say the master counterfeiter distributes his phony paper through a ring of 15 or 30 trusted "passers" who are furnished fraudulent credit cards for identification.

The passers are forbidden from purchasing anything with the credit cards in order to protect the source of supply. They are obtained from a credit card manufacturer's employe for $500 to $700 apiece.

All contact with the Canadian printer is strictly by pay phone, using elaborate codes. Under one code that was actually used, American Express traveler's checks were called "timber" and the amounts were given in "board feet." Thus an order for 500,000 board feet would have meant $500,000 worth of checks.

One reason the printer has never been investigated, say our sources, is that he has a firm rule that the forged securities must be passed fast. This prevents the FBI, Secret Service and Royal Canadian Mounted Police from establishing a string of "passes" that could lead to a member of the ring.

"What they can't pass fast, they burn," said one source.

Footnote: United States and Cansdian officials said they were unaware of the counterfeiting operation. "That doesn't mean he isn't operating," said one spokesman. "It may just mean we haven't caught him—yet."

Inside Report

Kissinger's Position is Precarious

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

WASHINGTON—The administration's failure to reverse Congress on Turkish aid leads to an inescapable conclusion with far-reaching implications: the tragic, perhaps irreversible break in the U.S.-Turkish alliance quite likely would not have occurred if Dr. Henry F. Kissinger were not Secretary of State.

The direct cause of Congress irresponsibly cutting off aid to Turkey is the brazen pressure campaign of the Greek-American lobby. But ethnic politics would not have been enough. What provided the margin of defeat was Dr. Kissinger. Feeling he had transformed Turkish aid into a test of who runs foreign policy, some liberal Democrats were tilted against Turkish aid. Even more damaging, rabidly anti-Communist Republicans opposed aid because Kissinger's detentist foreign policy.

While not condoning such motives, Republican congressional leaders blame Kissinger for the Turkish debacle. Some even feel his usefulness as Secretary of State has ended, a view now shared by a few officials in the administration. These still anonymous critcs are not Kissinger-haters of the far left or far right but responsible Ford supporters who until recently considered Kissinger indispensible.

President Ford views Kissinger as his most valuable adviser and wants him at the State Department through 1976, raising this question: what to do with a Secretary of State whose presence on Capitol Hill hurts more than helps in a Congress wildly assertive about foreign policy?

When Congress ended Turkish aid last December because of the Cyprus problem, Kissinger still cut a masterful figure on Capitol Hill. But Turkish aid quickly became personalized between four highly intense personalities—Kissinger on one side and three champions of the Greek lobby on the other: Reps. John Brademas of Indiana, Ben Rosenthal of New York and Paul Sarbanes of Maryland.

Matters grew worse Feb. 11 when three Congressmen visited Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, who suggested a compromise to conceivably break the impasse. The Congressmen reported this to Kissinger, who gave them the impresssion of resenting Schlesinger's interference. Indeed, such resentment was promptly relayed from State Department top Defense Department.

At that point, Brademas and his colleagues hardened their conclusion— erroneous or not —that Kissinger was more intertested in executive branch dominance over foreign policy than in compromising the Turkish problem.

Nevertheless, the administration's position improved through spring and early summer as the Turkish aid cutoff failed to soften Ankara's position on Cyprus. Lobbying to reverse the house, Kissinger met late July 9 with the huge Democratic freshman class of 75 members.

The results were disastrous. Some freshmen felt Kissinger was condescending in declaring that "you politicians" ought to understand motives of the Turkish leaders. Others felt him arrogant in asserting executive domination over foreign policy. Rep Abner Mikva of Illinois, more experienced and usually calmer than his freshman colleagues, entered the meeting leaning toward support of aid; he left opposed, fearful that Kissinger intended the issue as the opening wedge to drive Congress out of foreign policy.

Even so, the administration would have won had Republicans held firm. They did not. The 223 to 206 defeat was authored by 39 Republican defections, 27 of them conservatives. Voting against the President were the vanguard of the right wing, including Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio, Robert Bauman and Marjorie Holt of Maryland, John Rousselot of California and Philip Crane of Illinois. The underlying reason: Kissinger.

On the floor before the July 24 vote, conservatives told Republican leaders that if Henry Kissnger was for something, they were against it. They did not trust him, they added, and were bitter about detente, Helsinki, Cuba and the Panama Canal.

When Schlesinger met with the 39 recalcitrant Republicans July 30, they began denouncing Kissinger. Schlesinger refused to get into any discussion of his cabinet colleague and rival, instead stressing the adverse effects against U.S. national security from closing Turkish bases.

That turned around several anti-Communist Republicans, but nobody could absolutely guarantee a reversal in the House. So, Congress left town Aug. 1, to be idle for a full month in which U.S.-Turkish relations will grow more poisoned. Even a reversal on aid after Congress returns in September (by no means certain) would unscramble the Turkish eggs.

Should Dr. Kissinger now stay out of the firing line on this issue? Beyond Turkish aid, should he abandon congressional duties and stick to diplomacy? But handling Congress has been part of a Secretary of State's basic duties for a generation.

Thus, the President must decide whether Dr. Kissinger talents in negotiation with the Communists and in the Mideast outweigh his now obvious liabilities in Congress. Mr. Ford obviously thinks so, but some Republican congressional leaders may soon tell him they do not agree.

Jim Bishop: Reporting

. . . and the Great Court Deliberated

At Christmas in 1947, the United States Supreme Court was engaged in a backstairs debate about who should be invited to the court clerks' Christmas party. The question was whether it was proper to invite the Court's Negro messengers.

It seems incredible that the nine Justices, suffering under the yoke of a heavy case load, would permit themselves to become involved, but Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone insisted that the use of the cool and austere marble halls is the Court's business.

Fortunately, Justice Felix Frankfurter kept a candid diary. And, also fortunately, Joseph P. Lash found it in the Congressional Library and edited it into a Felix Frankfurter book for W.W. Norton.

All this was seven years before Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka ended segregation, and many years before the first black man, Thurgood Marshall, donned a dark robe to step up to the highest court.

In his diary, Justice Frankfurter noted that the Court secretaries— mostly females—initiated a Christmas party in 1946. The law clerks paid for a share of the party.

"The proposal to have such a party was again made this year," he wrote, "but the law clerks—some of them, or rather most of them— felt strongly that at least some of the colored employees in the Court should also be asked.

"It seemed to the law clerks not to do so was not only drawing the color line, but drawing the color line by the court. . .This proposal met with opposition from the secretaries—professedly at least —and probably genuinely so as to some—not on the score of racial discrimination but for social reasons as it were—that the messengers are servants, and servants for practical purposes of the secretaries under whose direction they work."

The position of the secretaries was that hostesses do not invite their servants to parties; therefore Negro messengers should not attend. The secretaries voted not to go to the Christmas party. The clerks invited black messengers and other Negro employees.

The High court has a marshal who is in charge of the maintenance and use of rooms. He withheld permission to stage the party without permission of the Chief Justice.

Chief Justice Stone fell into the trap. Instead of handing the decision back to the marshal, the Chief Justice said he would have to "get a mandate" from the full Court.

The nine august men sat around a conference table. Justice William Douglas whispered to Stone and asked to be excused. He left.

Stone asked whether the Justices would instruct him to tell the marshal that the clerks had permission to invite anyone. He then called the names in order of seniority. Justice Black said "yes" and nothing more. Reed said "yes".

Justice Frankfurter refused to vote, stating that the issue was not whether "colored people" should be allowed at a party, but whether the Court had any power over the guest list of a Christmas party. "It seemed to me inadmissible, "Frankfurter said, "or intolerable that we should allow parties to be held in this building, that first require those who hold them to submit to us their list of guests."

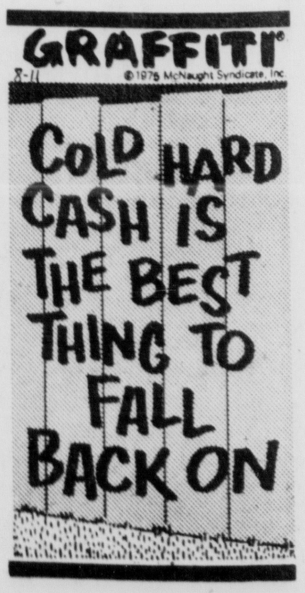

Justice Jackson cut in to say that he might be sticking his head out, but the "subject is an explosive one. If we are going to be fair about this thing, we know damn well that our hostesses, our wives, do not have our servants and our messengers as guests at our parties."

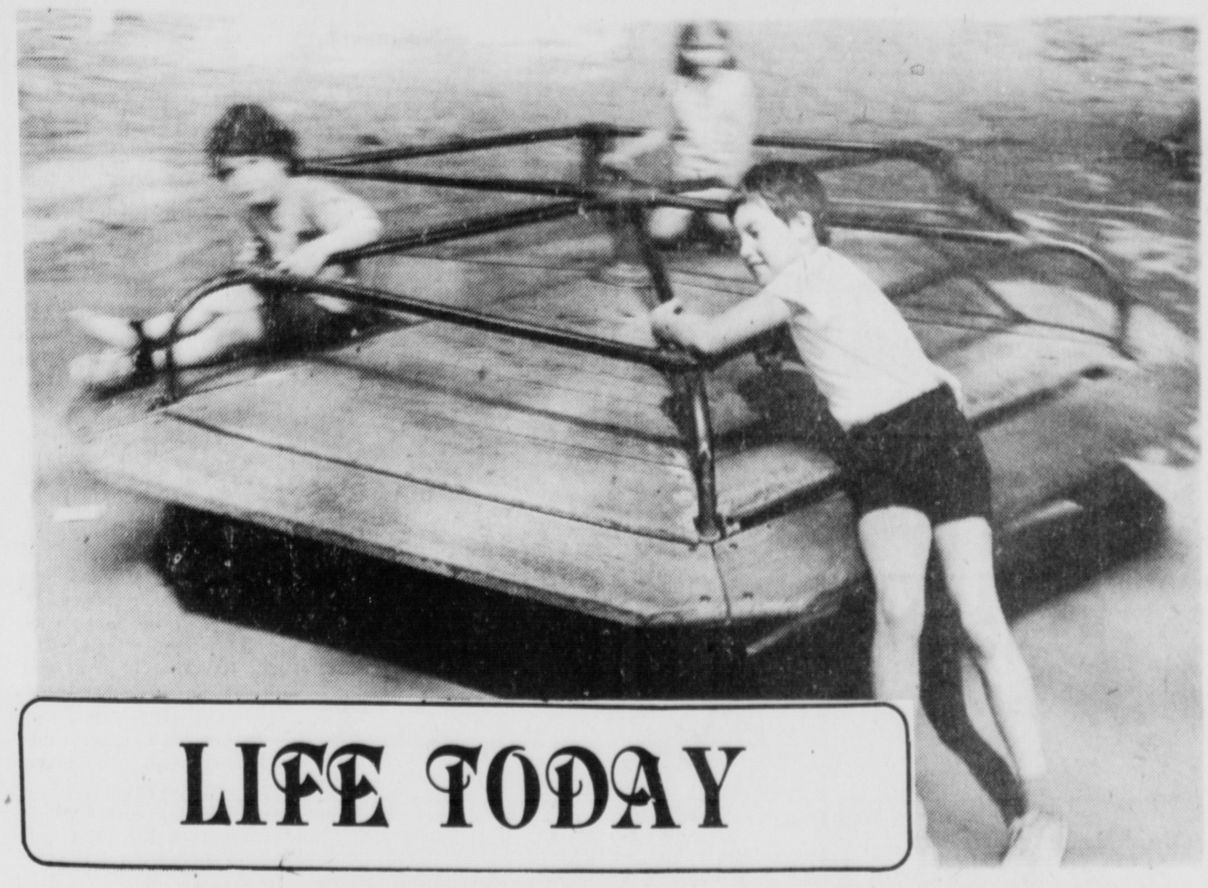

Jackson offered a motion denying the use of the High Court for any social purposes "except insofar as any Justice wants to put his personal chambers to any use to which he sees fit."

A solemn vote showed six opposed, Frankfurter and Jackson in favor. The Chief Justice feared a publicity leak. The party, he felt, should be allowed, only because not to do so would put the Court in a bad light.

Reed said he wouldn't attend. He said, "This is a private matter and I can do as I please in regard to private parties." Frankfurter said that the hour-long debate made it anything but personal and private.

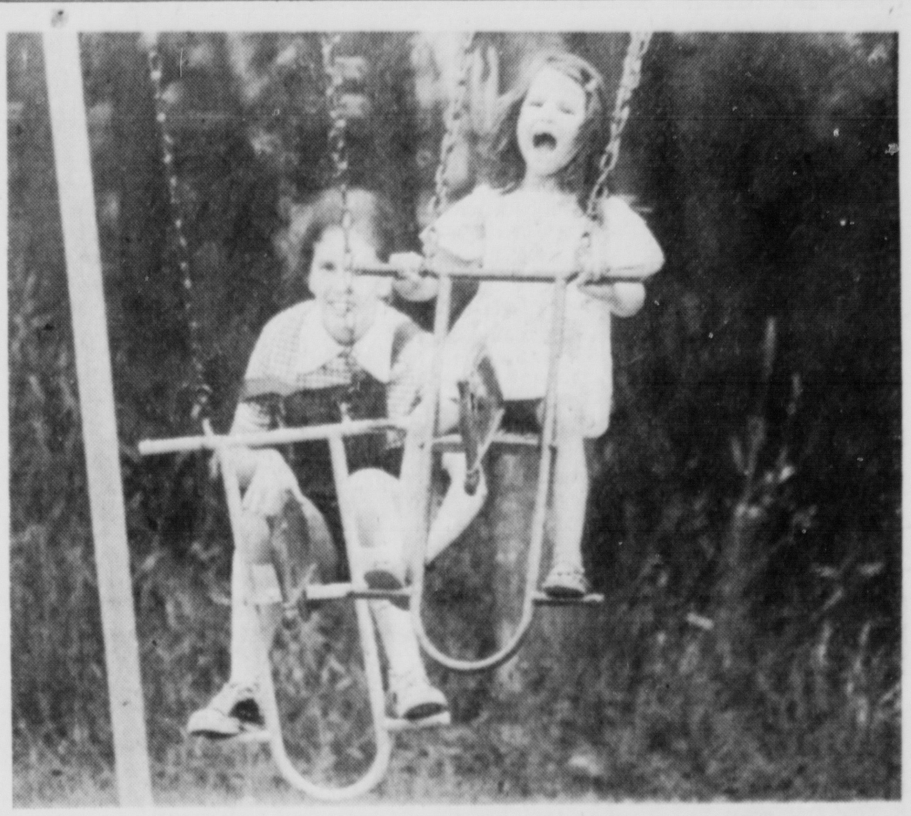

The party was staged. Few attended. The Justices smiled and shook hands with their "servants." That's democracy. . .

Successful Summer Season For City Parks Drawing to a Close

Another successful summer season for the city parks and playgrounds — a look at the attendance figures bears this out — is drawing to a close in the city of Kingston.

The Summer Program officially got underway on Monday, June 23. It officially comes to an end Friday, August 15, after a season of good fun and games.

Many special events were featured in this year's Summer Program — under the guidance of Superintendent of Recreation Andrew J. Murphy III and Summer Activities Director Joseph Mannello.

Standard week to week events during the past summer season have included boys and girls softball, weekly playground tournaments, arts and crafts and games. A special weekly program in the parks this year was the Recreation Department-sponsored tennis clinics.

And there have been such events as Bicentennial Day, the annual Children's Day Parade, a Swim Meet and the upcoming annual Paint-In scheduled for Tuesday, August 12, at 1 p.m.

Children will provide their own paint brushes for tomorrow's exciting event while the paint will be provided by the Recreation Department.

Judges will appraise the work and award prizes to the various winners with the Kingston Recreation Department providing transportation to all the centrally located special events.

And, if past years is any indication, Tuesday's Paint-In will certainly help to ring down the 1975 Summer Program on a successful note.

Attendance at the city playgrounds and parks hit a season high this year during the third week of the season when some 4,603 youngsters were registered throughout the vast playground system.

Other weekly attendance figures reported have been:

3,619 for the first week, 1,604 in the second, 3,240 for the fourth week, 2,781 for the fifth and approximately 2,500 for the most recent week.

The city playground and park system includes Hasbrouck Park, Hutton Park, Block Park, Forsyth Park, Loughran Park, Academy Green, No. 2 School, Colonial Gardens, Brigham School and the Municipal Auditorium.

Used Book sale At Ellenville Library

The friends of the Ellenville Public Library and Museum will hold their first used book sale Wednesday, Aug. 13, from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Library.

The friends of the Library is a community organization whose objectives include creating public support for an expanding library program. "The defeat of the 1976 library budget propsal will mean serious cutbacks in library service and total elimination of any kind of expansion on the library budget, proceeds from book sales will be used to replace the library's 16-year-old movie projector. The projector is used for film programs in the library, such as the Summer Film festival every Tuesday morning during July and August, and the preschool story times during the school year.

Books already donated for the sale include a wide variety, from best sellers to children's books, both fiction and non-fiction. Donations of saleable books in good condition may be left at the main desk of the library. Volunteers should call the Book Sale Chairperson, Mrs. Georgene Peabody.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I certainly don't agree with the advice you gave THE GIRL ACROSS THE WAY. Her apartment faced a 10-story high rise. She could see into the apartment of a gentleman who was always alone. Since she is alone, too, she asked you how she could meet him. You told her to pull down her shade and forget it.

Abby, that's the trouble with this world. If more people met strangers half way, there would be a lot less loneliness.

I would have told that girl to put a big sign in her window as follows: "WHAT'S YOUR PHONE NUMBER?"

FRIENDLY IN PHILLY

DEAR FRIENDLY: That kind of "friendliness" is asking for big trouble. Exhibiting such a sign in a large city might be too "successful" to succeed.

DEAR ABBY: Shame, shame, shame!!!! This is 1975, and I am disgusted with your old-fashioned advice to the 28-year-old woman who inquired about the best way to meet an apparently lonely gentleman across the way.

A little casserole, a bottle of wine and a knock on his door will tell her all she wants to know.

Wake up, Abby. Honesty is still the best policy. What's wrong with saying, "Hey, I'm lonely?"

CATHY IN BARBERTON, O.

DEAR CATHY: "A little casserole, a bottle of wine and a knock on the door" sounds like Little Red Riding Hood revisited—complete with wolf.

I'm all for honesty, honey. But I believe in safety first.

DEAR ABBY: I was saddened by the cold finality with which you dismissed GIRL ACROSS THE WAY's letter.

May I offer a solution?

Honey, if you want to meet that dude, hang a sign outside your window: "Want to come over for a cup of coffee?" Or maybe a safer, "Meet you at the corner drug store in 15 minutes."

If he doesn't show up, THEN she can pull down her shade and forget him.

LIBERATED IN SANTA ROSA, CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: I have a solution for GIRL ACROSS THE WAY. I'm in advertising and believe in it.

If I were that girl, I'd put a big sign in my window, reading, "GOOD MOVIE ON CHANNEL 6 AT 8 P.M."

And even if the gentleman responds with a sign that reads, "IT'S A RERUN," at least she's gotten his attention and might get something going.

FT. SMITH, ARK.

DEAR ABBY: Where does that 28-year-old, lonely working girl live? She wants to meet a guy she sees across the way and says she doesn't even care how old he is.

She sounds like my kind of gal. I'm 56 and could use some female companionship.

SAM IN PROVIDENCE

DEAR ABBY: You will probably be hearing from a lot of kooks who will be blasting you for telling that girl across the way to pull down her shade and forget the guy she sees sitting in his apartment night after night all alone.

Well, I applaud your good sense! Lord only knows what kind of nut he could be.

I'm not saying he couldn't turn out to be a very nice person, but it sure isn't worth the gamble.

Lead in New Musical

Ben Slack, who was recently seen as Lt. McCoy in the film, "Serpico," as well as in "Man on a Swing," "Law & Order" and "Dragon Fly," will take the lead in the premiere of the new musical, "Prague Spring" at the Woodstock Playhouse beginning Wednesday, Aug. 13. A cabaret-style musical, "Prague Spring" turns the events that led to the rise and fall of Alexander Dubcek's Liberal government in Czechoslovakia in 1968 into a fable. Isaac Schambelan, director who also is artistic director of the Playhouse and who is responsible for bringing this premiere to Woodstock, worked with Lee Kalcheim and Joseph Raposo on "Prague Spring." Kalcheim won an Emmy for writing "All in the Family," the TV success, while Raposo wrote much of the "Sesame Street" music. Playing Wednesday through Saturday nights at 8:30 and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2:30, the show will close Sunday, Aug. 17 with a 7 p.m. performance. Tickets are available at the Playhouse.

Committees Named By Art Council For Annual Exhibit

Show committees comprised of area artists and patrons have been announced by the Ellenville Art Council, sponsor of the seventh annual Art in the Square exhibit and competition set for Saturday, Aug. 23, in Ellenville's Liberty Square.

Dora Kaufman and Walter D. Scott will be serve as co-chairperson and co-chairman of the event with Scott also in charge of promotion and public relations.

Committee members who will handle wares, registration, judge selection, exhibit assignments and other details include John Beilman, Bertha Goodman, Ethel Rogow, Nadya Shepherd, Pat Clinton and Andrew Koistra. Also serving will be Ruth Friedman, Peg Scott, Sally Berger, Sudelle Kossar, Estelle Goodman and Rivan Krieger.

Margaret Hoyt of the Ellenville WCTU has authorized use of the lawn surrounding that organization's Liberty Square building for hanging exhibits.

Cooperation of both Town of Wawarsing and Ellenville Village trustees with the backing of Town Supervisor Franklin Sahler and Mayor Jerome Z. Elkin will provide exhibit area set-up and maintenance, aided by the Ellenville Police Department, its Cadets and C.E.T.A. workers under the direction of Andrew Yonker.

Announcement also has been made that Allen Cohen of Shokan, an assistant professop at Ulster County Community College, has been named first of two judges for the August 23 event.

Professor Cohen will judge oils and acrylics, water color, graphics and photography.

Nicklaus and Weiskopf Agree

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Tom Weiskopf said it and Jack Nicklaus agrees.

"I'm sure Jack will look back at this year as the year he gave the grand slam away," said Weiskopf.

"Yes," said Nicklaus following his fourth PGA title and 16th major tournament win Sunday at the Firestone Country Club, "I suppose of the four major tournaments, I had a better chance to win them this year than ever before."

"The Open I had and gave it away," he said, "and the British was almost given to me."

Nicklaus, whose winnings this year total $248,599, finished two shots behind playoff winner Lou Graham and John Mahaffey in the Open and was only one shot behind Jack Newton and winner Tom Watson who played off for the British.

Nicklaus, however, left little chance for error in Sunday's final round. He shot a one over 71 for a 72-hole score of 276, four under par.

He went into the day with a four shot edge over Bruce Crampton and after the first three holes, two of which he bogeyed, played like a finely tuned engine until he had it wrapped up.

Crampton, who hung in gamely through 14 holes, finished with a 69 and a 278 total, one-better than Weiskopf who had a closing 69 and 279.

Andy North, with the final round's best score, a five under 65, finished fourth a 281, while Hale Irwin, with a final round 73, and Billy Casper, who had a 70, finished at 283.

Nicklaus, who said he played the best four rounds he had ever played in one tournament at Firestone, bogeyed the first hole, birdied the second and bogeyed the third in a rather erratic start.

But he settled down and from the third hole to the 18th, which he double bogeyed after driving under an evergreen tree, he was near perfect.

"I said to myself 'you make a four at 17 and go to 18 and do anything you want.' And I did," he laughed.

But Crampton, who missed a 10-foot birdie putt at 17 which could have trimmed the final spread to just one shot, said he felt Nicklaus wouldn't have taken a six at 18. Nicklaus agreed.

Nicklaus, who now has four PGA titles, can tie Walter Hagen for the most PGA wins next year at Congressional in Washington, D.C. "I'd like to be able to tie that record," he said.

Although Sunday's victory was his 16th major victory, Nicklaus said he savored it as much as the rest, except possibly the first.

"Each one adds its own dimension," said the Golden Bear. "Anytime I whip a tough golf course and a field like this, it's pretty satisfying."

Crampton, who has now finished second to Nicklaus in four major tournaments in the past four years, the 1972 Masters and U.S. Open and the 1973 PGA, said he felt he played well and is "proud to finish second to Jack any time I play."

Crampton, who had fallen four shots off the pace Saturday after leading by four going into the third round, trailed by only two shots until he bogyed the 15th. Nicklaus, playing in the next threesome, knocked in a 20-footer for a bird and a four shot margin.

"At that stage, I was just trying to stay ahead of Tom (Weiskopf) and finish second," Crampton said. "After Jack hit it over the water on 16, that's about all there was left for me."

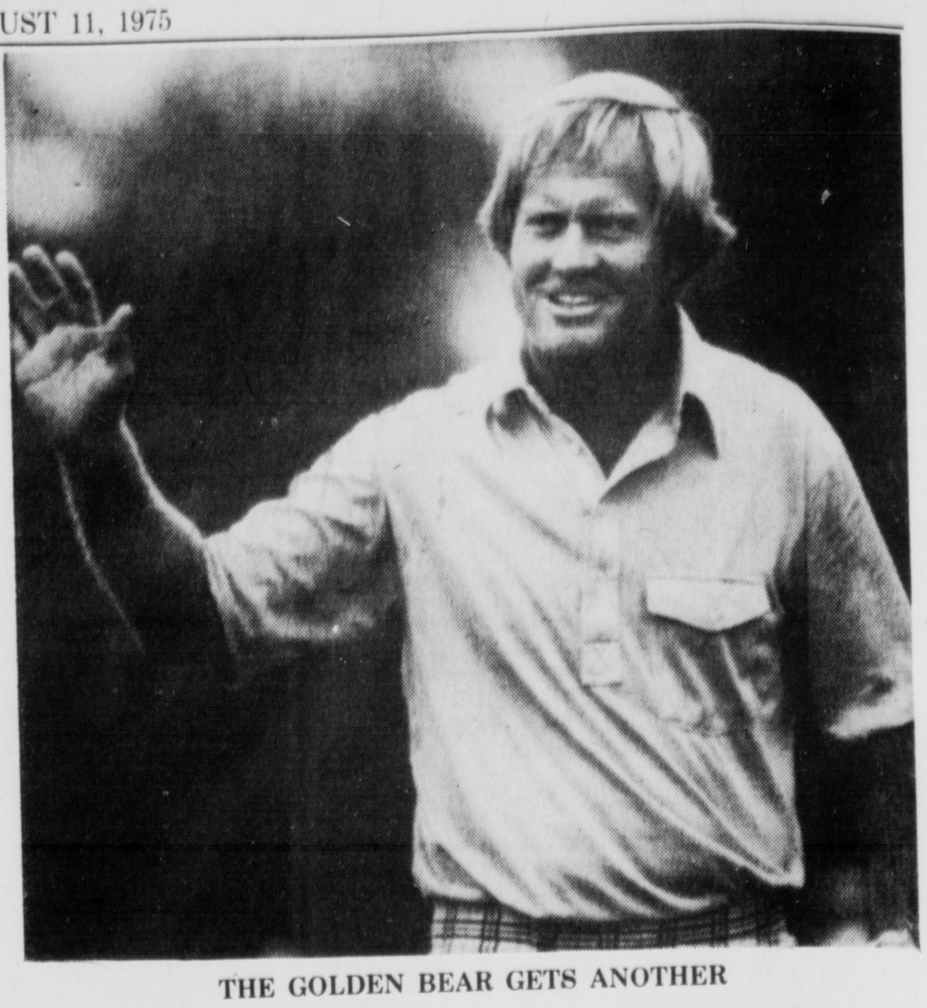

Crampton pretty well summed up his feelings by saying: "I guess I'll be in a familiar role in this tournament next year — defending runnerup."

Weiskopf, who trailed by six shots going into the final round, made a quck charge with two straight birdies, but quickly fell back and was never really a factor.

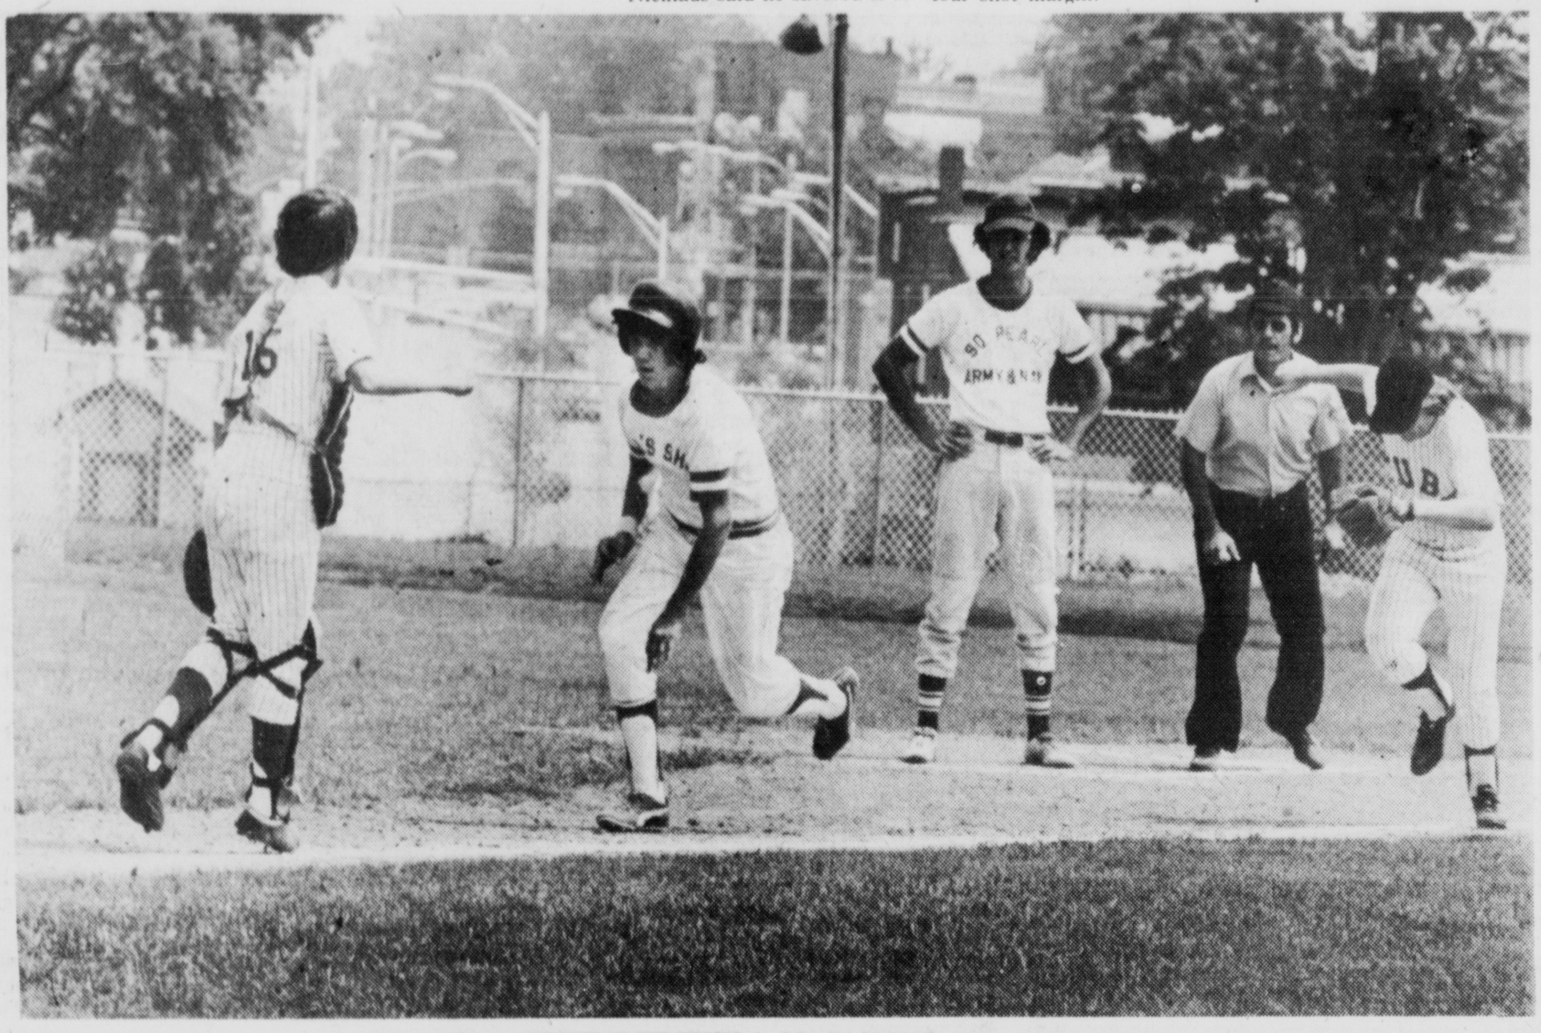

"I never really got going until today," said Weiskopf, who, as winner of the Canadian Open two weeks ago, gets into next month. World Series of Golf at Firesone.

The Canadian Open, in which Weiskopf beat Nicklaus in sudden death, is the first alternate for the World Series, which for the final time this year matches the winners of the Masters, U.S. and British opens and PGA.

ALBANY'S VINCE BERGHELA IS CAUGHT IN A RUN-DOWN

Liverpool Captures Babe Ruth Laurels

KINGSTON

The Ninth Annual 13-Year-Old Upstate New York Junior Babe Ruth Tournament reached a wild and wooly conclusion at Dietz Stadium Sunday as Liverpool unleashed a 17-hit attack and slugged its way to a 22-17 victory over Central Albany for the title.

Liverpool had beaten Dan-Way-Coa, 9-2 in a morning semifinal contest, and Albany had stopped Allegany, 7-4 in a game immediately following. Rain on Friday had forced the eight team field to play all its games in two days.

Liverpool's John Dillion was the hitting star of the day as he smashed a pair of extra base hits and drove in four runs. His triple in the first inning came with the bases loaded and highlighted a frame in which the winners sent 14 men to the plate and took a 10-1 lead.

Most teams would have folded under that kind of onslaught, but Albany was far from finished. Mike Taylor, who drilled four hits for the losers during the game, helped cut the lead to six runs by capping a three-run second inning rally with an RBI single. Teammate John Preston tripled to help a five-run Albany burst in the fourth, and the Liverpool lead was only 12-9.

The Liverpool bats, however, refused to cool off. Jim Roswood and Bob Charles each slammed key doubles to keep the run parade moving. The winners got three more runs in the fourth, four in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Each team used three pitchers. Tim Spafford, the opening round winner for Liverpool over Schnectady, picked up his second victory of the tournament in relief. George Kouisakis was tabbed with the defeat.

Liverpool moved past Dan-Way-Coa in the semis with a 12-hit attack. Roswood and Bob Sanguine each collected three hits, and Sanguine drove in a pair of runs. Chuck Binaxes went all the way with a five-hitter for the victory.

Vince Berghela tripled and drove in three runs to lead Albany past Allegany. Dave Sahagian stopped the losers on eight hits.

Open Billiard Titles For Dallas, Balukas

CHICAGO (UPI) — Smooth-stroking Dallas West took home the biggest check in the history of tournament billiards and 16-year-old Jean Balukas wrapped up her fourth straight women's title in the $43,000 U.S. Open Pocket Billiard championships which ended early Sunday.

West, 33, of Rockford, Ill., had a tight four-hour struggle for the championship against Pete Margo, 28, of Staten Island, N.Y. But West came out a winner, 200-189 in 39 innings, and took home the $10,000 first prize.

Miss Balukas, a high schooler from Brooklyn, N.Y., won $3,000 for her performance against Mieko Harada, a 40-year-old housewife from Uji City, Japan. The score was 100-63 in 39 innings.

The championship was West's first in 10 years of trying. Last year, he did the best to that point by taking 25th place and a $200 prize.

He said after the match that the game could have gone either way but he was delighted to be champion.

Margo won $5,000 for his runner-up finish.

At one point in the men's game, West, who runs a billiard room, rolled up a 72-ball high run, but the margin throughout the game never reached more than 28 balls for either man.

The women's match was off to a slow start but midway through, Miss Balukas racked up a run of 23. She won going away when Mrs. Harada, 40, missed a long shot with the score at 90-62.

The victory was the 20th in a row for the teen-ager, who says she will return in 1976 in an effort to defend her title and match the U.S. Open women's record of five consecutive titles, set by Dorothy Wise of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Wise retired four years ago.

After the match, Jean said, "I was nervous and didn't play that well, really, but when I needed a key shot, I was fortunately able to make it."

Mrs. Harada, who lost the title by one ball to Miss Balukas last year, said she will return next year for another attempt at the championship.

"Unfortunately , there are no Japanese pool players with Jean's skill, so I play men most of the time and am not really familiar with the strategy she employs on the table," the housewife said.

Bill Zeeh, Ruth Goldin Singles Champs

JACKIE MARTIN MAKES RETURN

KINGSTON

All the returns are in for the 1975 Ulster County Tennis Championship Tournament and they all have an old, familiar ring.

Right up there on top are the Brothers Zeeh—Bill and Pete—and Ruth Goldin, the redoubtable and versatile New Paltz athlete.

Bill Zeeh, who lost only four games enroute to the men's singles, dropped the first set to second-seeded Lloyd Emanuel, 1-6, then rallied to take the next two sets, 6-2, 6-3 and add yet another prize to his bulging trophy case.

Bill then joined with brother Pete to retain the doubles championship with a straight-set, 6-2, 6-4 triumph over the team of Pete Boyd and Ron Woods.

Mrs. Goldin, who had zipped four consecutive opponents to reach the finals, turned back the challenge of Chris Miller, 6-3, 6-1, to capture the women's singles title.

Chris also moved into the championship picture, teaming with Jackie Martin to subdue Rose Koplovitz and Judy Grayson, 6-4, 7-5, in the day's toughest struggle to win the women's doubles title.

Belmont Towbin and Bernard Needles of Woodstock moved into the finals of the men's senior doubles by defeating Bernie Schaeffer and Bob Durkin, the New Paltz State coach, but proved no match for the George Martin-Marshall Lipton tandem in the finals. Martin and Lipton breezed to an easy 6-1, 6-2 victory.

The tournament attracted a record breaking number of entries and the largest crowds in recent history, but when it was all over, the dominance of the Zeeh brothers and Ruth Goldin was still intact.

"It was an exceptionally well run tournament," said Kal Kalleberg, the publicity director, "We had several great matches and the most enthusiastic crowds in history. This is all in keeping with the tremendous interest in tennis on all levels these days."

If Bill Zeeh put down his opponents in the early going, Mrs. Goldin was equally devastating reeling off 26 consecutive games in blanking her first four opponents. In the opening 8-point round, she zipped Liz Shults, 8-0, then polished off Haidy Leemets, 6-0, 6-0 and Ann Markes by the same margin.

Meanwhile, Chris Miller marched through the ladder with an opening 8-3 victory over Margo Vestergaard. She then eliminated Nan Slutsky 6-2, 6-1 and moved into the finals with a 6-1, 6-1 triumph over Bonnie Burnett.

All matches have been completed except for the doubles division which will be completed Wednesday and Thursday.

BILL ZEEH WITH OLD FRIEND

West Germany's Pinta Admiral Cup Leader

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI) — The West German yacht Pinta, sighted passing the Lizard, England's most southernmost tip, Sunday appeared the frontrunner in 605-mile Fastnet classic, the fourth and final race of the Admiral's Cup series comprising the world's premier ocean-racing event.

The coastguard at the Lizard, 100 miles from the Cowes starting point, said he sighted Pinta and two yachts immediately behind it —the British team yachts Noryema and Battlecry.

Noryema leads all yachts in points through the first three races and was the winner of the channel race to contribute heavily to the host country's first place standing. Heading into the Fastnet race, Britain had 542 points, followed by the United States with 495 and defending champions West Germany with 491. America's Charisma, a 54-footer owned by Jessie Philips of Dayton, Ohio, and helmed by Denis Connor, was logged passing the Lizard a short time later, followed by Guia III of Italy. Tenacious skippered and owned by Ted Turner of Atlanta, Ga., and Spain's Sanumac.

Twenty minutes later New Zealand's Gerontius and Argentina's Red Rock III sailed past with Irish Mist of Ireland and the third American boat, Robin, owned and skippered by Ted Hood of Marblehead, Mass., sighted about 15 minutes behind.

But the coast guard said visibility off the Lizard was only three to four miles and said it was possible that many other yachts had passed the point well out of sight of land.

Officials said Italy's Vihuela pulled out of the race to head for Plymouth after damaging her mast in the English channel Sunday afternoon.

The Fastnet counts triple points in the series. After the Lizard stage, the yachts from 19 nations faced the testing voyage to the Fastnet rock off the west coast of Ireland before heading back to coastal waters off Cornwall.

Sutton Has That Satisfied Feeling

By KEN ROSENBERG
UPI Sports Writer

When your team trails the division leader by 15½ games in mid-August, it can sometimes take a good deal of soul-searching to be satisfied with your performance...unless you're Don Sutton.

Sutton, who became the National League's winningest pitcher Sunday afternoon when he pitched a three-hitter against the New York Mets to record his 16th victory, shouldn't have too much trouble looking at himself in the mirror when the season ends.

"It feels fine to be the winningest for right now but it's just a stepping stone to something else," said Sutton.

That something else might well be the Cy Young Award, of which Sutton has emerged as one of the leading candidates along with San Diego's Randy Jones and the Mets' Tom Seaver.

Walt Alston, the Dodger manager who honestly believes his team can still catch Cincinnati, is hoping Sutton, a streak pitcher who was the mainstay in Los Angeles' pennant drive last year when he won 13 of his last 14 regular season decisions, will help propel the Dodgers into contention during the next few weeks.

"Sutton's a good steady pitcher," said Alston. "If we're going to get back in the race, he'll have to continue to pitch the way he has been."

The 2-1 victory, keyed by rookie John Hale's sixth home run and Steve Yeager's run-scoring single, is helping Alston keep his faith in his troops despite what some might call a gloomy situation.

"We're not out of it yet," he said. "The last thing I'd do is give up. What we have to do is play better. I have not given up and the first ballplayer on this club who gives me the impression he has, his butt will be out of there so fast, he won't know what hit him."

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati ripped Montreal 11-3, Houston downed Pittsburgh 5-3, San Francisco routed Philadelphia 8-1, St. Louis shaded San Diego 3-2 in 10 innings and Chicago pounded Atlanta 9-1.

In the American League, Boston beat Oakland 5-3 in a battle of division leaders, Kansas City defeated Cleveland 5-1, Minnesota handed Detroit its 15th consecutive loss with a 4-0 victory, California blanked New York 1-0, Chicago edged Baltimore 3-2 and Milwaukee tripped Texas 7-4.

Reds 11, Expos 3

George Foster slammed a three-run homer, his 19th, and Johnny Bench and Tony Perez combined to drive in four runs, helping Cincinnati maintain its 15½ game over Los Angeles with a 16-hit attack. Rollie Eastwick gained his 12th save in relief of Fred Norman, who picked up his seventh victory.

Astros 5, Pirates 3

Skip Jutze's two-run single highlighted a four-run first inning and Houston went on to hand Pittsburgh its fifth straight loss behind the pitching of James Rodney Richard and Mike Cosgrove. Richard yielded just one hit in six innings, but walked 10 batters before Cosgrove came on to preserve Richard's eighth victory.

Giants 8, Phillies 1

Gary Matthews clouted a pair of homers to drive in four runs and propel San Francisco past Philadelphia. By losing, the Phillies lost a chance to pick up a game on Pittsburgh and thus remain two games behind the NL East leaders. Jim Barr went the distance for the Giants to gain his 10th victory.

Cards 3, Padres 2

Ken Reitz tied the game with a one-out homer in the bottom of the 10th and Lou Brock singled in Mike Tyson with the winning run moments later to spark St. Louis over San Diego. Tito Fuentes had given the Padres a 2-1 lead in the top of the inning when he slammed his third homer of the season off Al Hrabosky, who benefitted from the outburst by gaining his 10th victory.

Cubs 9, Braves 1

Bill Bonham pitched a five-hitter and Rick Monday rapped out three hits including a three-run double to pace Chicago past Atlanta. Bonham, who aided his own cause by driving in two runs, won his 11th game and didn't allow a hit until Earl Williams led off the fifth with a single.

Mayberry Makes Prophets Look Good

By BILL MADDEN
UPI Sports Writer

John Mayberry is making a prophet out of two Kansas City Royal managers.

"In order for this club to be a pennant contender, we've gotta have a big year from John Mayberry," said ex-Royals' manager Jack McKeon in spring training.

"This is a helluva ball club and there's no reason why we can't start winning," said Whitey Herzog upon succeeding McKeon last month.

Thanks to Mayberry, who has now hit safely in 14 straight games, the Royals have started winning again and with Sunday's 5-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians, they stand only 5½ games behind the Oakland A's in the American League west pennant race.

Mayberry drove home four runs in Sunday's victory, three via his 26th homer of the year, and, with 81 RBIs, is now headed for his best season ever. The oyals, meanwhile, have won 14 of 18 games under Herzog.

"There's a lot more talent here than I thought," Herzog said. "Even though I didn't think we'd be 14-4 at this point, if we had some healthy lefthanders in the bullpen, we could have been 17-1."

Mayberry, who is hitting .453 in his last 18 games, credits his bat revival to better concentration.

"The reason I've started to hit is that I'm concentrating more, waiting on breaking balls and watching the pitcher's hand to the plate," said the big first baseman, who homered with Fred Patek and Al Cowens aboard in the third and added an RBI infield out in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston downed Oakland 7-4, California blanked New York 1-0, Milwaukee upended Texas 7-4, Chicago shaded Baltimore 3-2 and Minnesota whitewashed Detroit 4-0.

Over in the National League, it was Los Angeles over New York 2-1, Houston topping Pittsburgh 5-3, Chicago putting Atlanta to rout 9-1, St. Louis over San Diego 3-2, San Francisco on top of Philadelphia 8-1 and Cincinnati over Montreal 11-3.

Red Sox 5, A's 3

Cecil Cooper and Jim Rice each slugged two-run homers as the Red Sox increased their lead over Baltimore in the AL East to seven games. Cooper's 10th homer of the year followed Bernie Carbo's single in the first inning, while Rice's 19th followed a walk to Cooper in the fourth. Luis Tiant (13-11) was the winner with help from two relievers.

White Sox 3, Orioles 2

Jorge Orta's game-winning double climaxed a three-run ninth inning uprising by the White Sox, who had been handcuffed on four hits by Orioles' starter Mike Torrez up to that point. Prior to Orta's hit, which scored Pat Kelly from first base, Brian Downing tied the score with a two-run homer off reliever Grant Jackson. Ken Singleton hit a solo homer for Baltimore in the eighth.

Twins 4, Tigers 0

Minnesota's Bert Blyleven hurled a four-hitter to send the reeling Tigers down to their 15th straight loss, extending their own club record for futility. Jerry Terrell doubled and Rod Carew hit a pinch-hit sacrifice fly in the seventh for Twins' first two runs. Detroit has not scored a run in its last 20 innings and has only one in its last 28. Blyleven (11-6) struck out six.

Angels 1, Yankees 0

Lee Stanton doubled home Tommy Harper with one out in the bottom of the ninth for the game's only run and pitchers Bill Singer andMickey Scott combined on a four-hitter in the Angels' victory. Stanton, the Angels' leading RBI man w th 53, stroked his game-winning hit off Rudy May.

Brewers 7, Rangers 4

George Scott drove home three runs with four hits (including a solo homer) in helping the Brewers snap a six-game losing streak. Scott singled in the first, stroked RBI singles in the third and fourth and belted his 24th homer in the sixth. Pete Broberg (10-10) was the winner.

Raiders Look Even Stronger

BY JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders compiled the best record in the National Football League last season and from the looks of their 1975 pre-season opener, they could be even stronger this year.

The Raiders, who won 12 of 14 regular season games and ousted defending Super Bowl champ Miami in the playoffs before being bounced themselves by Pittsburgh in the American Conference title game, absolutely overwhelmed the Detroit Lions Sunday. With reserve quarterback Larry Lawrence going almost all the way, Oakland blasted the Lions 34-0.

Lawrence is only in his second NFL season but he has two years of Canadian football and a year of taxi squad experience behind him. He completed 9-of-11 passes for 101 yards and a touchdown.

And while Lawrence directed the offense, the Raider defense shut off Detroit completely. The Lions were able to gain only 44 total yards in the first half and 115 overall and entered Oakland territory only once.

"That's an awesome array of talent," said Lions Coach Rick Forzano. "Everything they did seemed to work and nothing we did worked."

"We seem to play well against Detroit," said Oakland Coach John Madden, whose club has beaten the Lions three straight games. "I don't know why. You try not to get pleased this early in the season. When we watch the film, we'll find things wrong."

Oakland piled up 311 yards and the Raiders had 20 first downs compared to only six for Detroit.

Lawrence went out in the third quarter with a knee injury and he won't know how severe it is until Tuesday. But he was pleased with his performance.

"The experience I got last year has made me a more confident player this year," he said. "I know what I'm doing when I go into the game."

Starter Ken Stabler, who hit 3-of-4 passes in running only two series, threw a 37-yard touchdown pass to Cliff Branch and Lawrence threw a 16-yard TD pass to Morris Bradshaw. Pete Banaszak ran one yard and rookie Louis Carter eight for two more TDS.

In other Sunday exhibitions, the New York Giants defeated New England 28-14 and San Francisco downed Cleveland 17-13. In Saturday night action, Philadelphia upset Pittsburgh 17-14, the New York Jets stunned Minnnsota 20-15, Green Bay whipped Buffalo 23-6, Los Angeles dumped Dallas 35-7, Miami downed Cincinnati 7-3, St. Louis topped Kansas City 10-3, Houston beat New Orleans 13-7, Chicago crushed San Diego 22-0 and Baltimore edged Denver 23-20 in overtime.

Rookie Bob Hammond's two-yard TD run snapped a 14-14 tie and Carl Summerell passed three yards to Jim Obradovich for an insurance score as the Giants beat New England. New York lost defensive end Jack Gregory with a broken nose on the first play of the game.

Sammy Johnson ran a yard for the winning score with 14:01 left as San Francisco edged the Browns. Norm Snead had a six-yard scoring pass to Gene Washington for the 49ers while Mike Phipps had a 22-yard TD pass and Brian Sipe a 47-yarder for Cleveland.

Mike Boryla's 14-yard TD pass to Harold Carmichael in the third period lifted Philadelphia over the Super Bowl champion Steelers and Bob Gresham scored two touchdowns and set up a third as the Jets upended the NFC champion Vikings.

Rookie Willard Harrell returned a punt 82 yards for one score and caught a 30-yard TD pass from Carlos Brown as Green Bay swamped Buffalo and quarterback James Harris guided Los Angeles to three touchdowns in a rout of Dallas.

Earl Morrall, starting his 20th pro season, threw a 10-yard TD pass to Nat Moore with 9:41 left to lift Miami over Cincinnati and Eddie Moss' diving catch in the end zone of Gary Keithley's 12-yard pass helped St. Louis beat the Chiefs.

Toni Linhart's 29-yard field goal at 11:14 of sudden death lifted Baltimore over Denver. John Hufnagel had TD passes of 44 yards to Rick Upchurch and 93 to Jack Dolbin for the Broncos.

Giants Top Pats

FOXBORO, Mass (UPI) — The New England Patriots seemed to take their exhibition loss to the New York Giants in stride.

"We'll improve as the exhibition season goes on," quarterback Jim Plunkett, speaking for the offense, said after Sunday night's 28-14 win by the Giants.

"We'll get better," defensive tackle Julius Adams said.

The Giants broke a 14-14 tie with two touchdowns within three minutes of the fourth period.

The Patriots scored first in the opening period when Plunkett threw a 44-yard TD pass to Randy Vataha. The Giants tied the game in the second quarter on a Craig Morton pass to Walker Gillete, capping a 72-yard drive.

In the third quarter, the Giants took the lead on a two-yard run by Doug Kotar. The Patriots tied the game in the fourth quarter on a 17-yard pass from Neil Graff to Sam Cunningham.

The Giants then came up two quick touchdowns. Rookie Bob Hammond scored on a two-yard run with 8:07 left in the game. On the following kickoff, Patriots rookie Allen Carter fumbled and New York recovered. Five plays later, Jim Obradovich scored on a three-yard pass from Carl Summerell.

New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said winning wasn't the main objective in the opening exhibition for both teams. He said he considered the game an opportunity for some of the new players to show what they can do.

Graff, who played most of the game, said he thought "the offense played well. But it was a matter of us not having the ball that much. When we did have it, we moved it well."

The Giants had the ball for 76 plays from scrimmage and the Patriots had it for 58 plays.

Adams said the defense "made quite a few mistakes, but there were a lot of new people out there who have never played together in a game."

"I don't think we were really sharp and that was obvious," Plunkett said.

Larry Watkins of the Giants led all rushers with 66 yards in 11 attempts. Steve Schubert was the top rusher for New England with 43 yards in five carries.

Weiskopf In

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus' victory in the PGA Championship opened a spot in next month's World Series of Golf for Tom Weiskopf.

Weiskopf was the first alternate to the 36-hole event, scheduled Sept. 6-7 on this same Firestone Country Club course, as a result of his playoff victory over Nicklaus in the Canadian Open two weeks ago.

An alternate was needed because Nicklaus won two of the four major events — the PGA and Masters.

Orantes Upsets Vilas For Open Court Honors

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Spain's Manuel Orantes upset top-seeded Guillermo Vilas Sunday and will meet Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe in tonight's finals of the men's singles of the $150,000 National Clay Court tennis tourney as it draws to a close.

As expected, top-seeded Chris Evert had little trouble capturing her fourth consecutive women's single title Sunday, but unseeded Dianne Fromholtz of Australia, who lost 6-3, 6-4, looked on the $5,000 second-place prize as quite a large birthday present. She was 19 Sunday but the match was anything but a party for her.

Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., needed slightly more than a hour to win, breaking her opponent's service in the very first game, then breaking it twice more while Miss Fromholtz's only service break came in the second game to tie the set at one all. Miss Fromholtz took her only lead by holding service, the Miss Evert took the next three games for a 4-2 lead.

In the second set, Miss Evert raced to a 4-0 lead before her opponent rallied, winning four of the next five games to trail only 5-4. Miss Evert took the next game to close out the match.

Ashe, the No. 2 seed, said he feels he will have to rush the net often to beat Orantes, who was seeded third but who beat him when they played earlier this year at Monte Carlo, 6-3, 6-2.

"It was about a 60 minute match," Ashe quipped. "It would have been 40 minutes but I took a long time to change courts. The odds are I can't stay in the back court and beat him."

Ashe, who has been critical of his inconsistent performances at the tourney, defeated fifth-seeded Onny Parun of New Zealand, 6-4, 7-6, winning the second set in a tie breaker, 7-2, when Parun double faulted. In his first set, games were tied at four each when Ashe won three straight points to break Parun's service and go ahead 5-4, then held service to win.

However, in the second set, Ashe fell behind, 2-5, before rebounding to a 5-all tie before the two men tied at 6-6 to force the tiebreaker, in which Ashe won the first four points, one an ace.

Orantes, who has won seven of his 12 meetings with Vilas, including three straight this year without losing a set to the South American, won Sunday's match, 6-4, 6-2. He said afterward that he has developed a cutting stroke that converts the topspin put on the ball by Vilas to a backspin as it goes back across the net.

Tuneup Time for Jimmy

NORTH CONWAY, N.Y. (UPI) — Jimmy Connors, winner of the Volvo International Tennis Tournament, says he'll tune up in more ways than one the next two weeks.

Connors, who defeated Ken Rosewall in the Volvo final Sunday, said he'll rehearse this week for his television debut as a singer in a Paul Anka special. Then, he said, he would play in the Eastern Open at Orange, N.J., as a final tuneup for the Forest Hills tourney.

The final contest of the Volvo tourney took less than an hour. Connors controlled the play and won, 6-2, 6-2, in 50 minutes.

"I felt really good on the clay," Connors, of Belleville, Ill., said. "I moved well and just wasn't missing any shots."

Rosewall had trouble controlling his forehand and Connors often served high into that weakness. Rosewall spent most of the game in the backcourt.

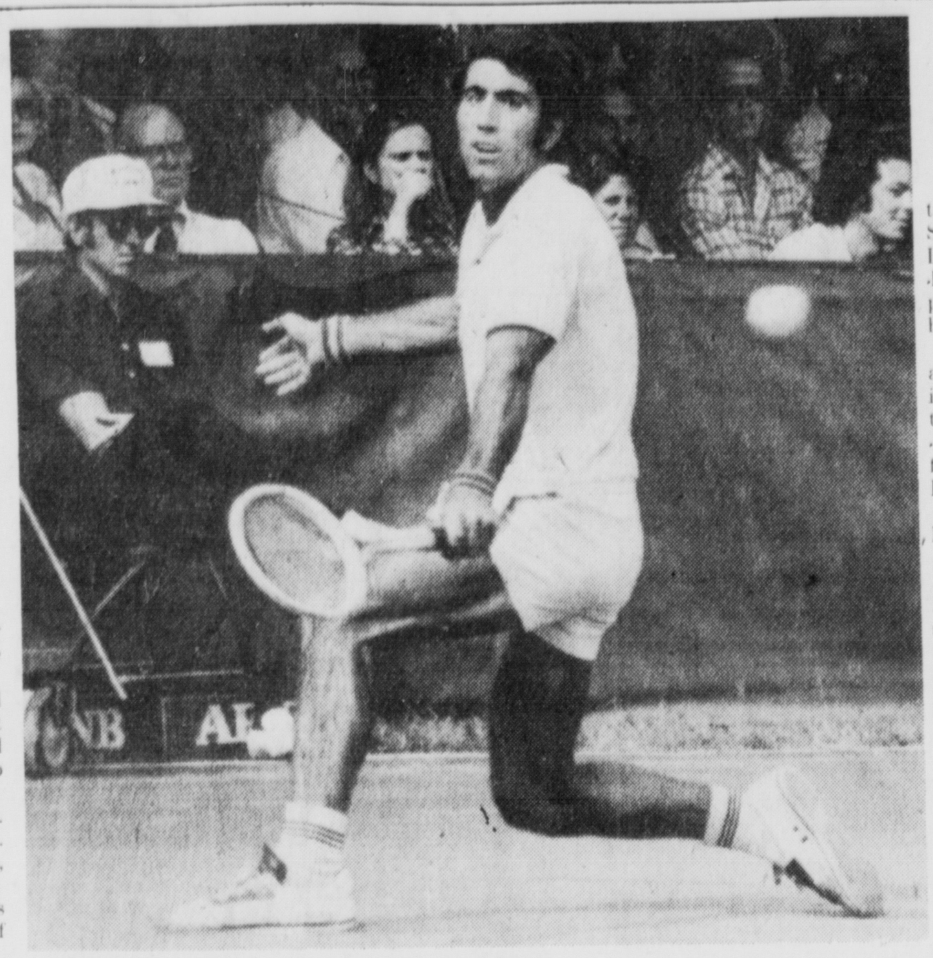

"I wanted to try to force the play a little more but I couldn't keep the ball in play," Rosewall said.

After accepting the winner's check of $20,000 from New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson, Jr., Connors broke into sobs. He explained that he had just heard of the death of a close friend, tennis umpire Gus Lanna of New York.

Promoters of the tournament at Mt. Cranmore, a ski resort, said they were encouraged by attendance at the week-long event and might consider enlarging the 8,200-seat capacity. They said more than 40,000 spectators showed up at the outdoor facility.

Rosewall said he would not play in Forest Hills but would return to Australia "for a combination of family, personal and business reasons."

The final match was set up when Connors defeated Rod Laver of Australia, 6-4, 6-4, and Rosewall beat Romanian Ilie Nastase, 7-5, 1-6, 7-6, Saturday.

A Fast Turnaround

Spain's Manuel Orantes does a fast turnaround to return volley from Guillermo Vilas of Argentina Sunday in U.S. Clay Court semifinal match. Orantes upset the top-seeded Vilas and went on to defeat Arthur Ashe in the finals. (UPI)

Greco's Annex Softball Title

SAUGERTIES

Greco Broghers GB's captured the championship of the Saugerties Girls Softball Little Leauge by beating the Howard Johnson Hojo's, 9-5 to complete a two game sweep of a best of three playoff series.

The GB's held a 5-2 lead after three innings and locked it up with four more runs in the fourth. Kelly Conley and Judy Hall each socked two hits for the winners, and Nancy Bryce pitched the victory.

Gin Ferraro and Diana Mauro doubled for the Hojo's.

★ ★ ★

The American Legion Braves jumped off to a good start in the best-of-three Saugerties Little League playoffs, beating the Saugerties Coal and Lumber Tigers, 8-5 in the opener.

Brian Klein, with relief help from Steve Nilsen, notched the victory. Nilsen slammed a double for the winners.

The Tigers got a homer from Joe Chatmurma and two-baggers from Joel Hutton and Chris Rea, but the hits were not enough to keep Rea from absorbing the defeat.

The Tigers gained the series by beating the Eveready Beverage Yanks, 11-8 In the National Division title contest. Cliff Tienken powered the win with a grand slam.

Dolphins Tied; Port Ewen Rolls

KINGSTON

The Rotary Dolphins had their Mid Hudson Soccer Association victory streak stopped Sunday, but the Port Ewen AA just kept rolling along.

A determined defense by the SAA Dutchmen held the Dolphins to a 3-3 standoff. Oscar's Tapers couldn't match that feat in its game, however, as Port Ewen steamed to an 8-2 triumph.

In other MHSA weekend results, Yallum's and the SAA Iroquois battled to a 4-4 tie; Kingston Travel held Virginia Chemical to a 1-1 deadlock; Mannenchor topped Greimel Enterprises, 3-1; Garraghan Oil whipped Marcel, 5-1; Chick Dalton Memorial edged Court Restaurant, 1-0; Vin's Mobil and the Kingston Sport Club tied, 1-1; and Dawkin's Insurance downed Rudy's Meat Market, 4-0.

Greg Manuel slammed in three goals, Ray Krastin and Ron Venditti booted two apiece and John Ossner scored one as Port Ewen continued its slaughter of opponents. Tim Zulick tallied both scores for the Tapers.

Brian Wunderlich kicked the shot that held the powerhouse Virginia Chemical squad to a tie. Peter Giacalone scored for VC to prevent an even bigger upset.

Jeff Gurtsena, Mike Shields and Greg Rose shared the scoring honors as Mannenchor achieved its first triumph of the season. Greimel's only resistence came from a shot by Eric Kurtz.

Garraghan rolled easily behind two goal performances by Dave Jordan and Walter Streib. Jim Sumislaski also penetrated the Marcel defense to boost the count higher.

A penalty kick by Chick Dalton's John Schaeffer sent Court Restaurant to defeat. In another low scoring contest Joe Cosgrove's goal enabled Vin's Mobil to play the strong Kingston Sport Club on even terms. Bob Bowers hit for KSC.

Ron Timbrouck hit twice, and Emil Jordan and Tim Dell scored once each as Dawkins powered past Rudy's in Germantown.

The MHSA's Prospect Division All Stars also saw action, dropping a close, 3-2 game to the Patterson, N.J., Dovers in an exhibition contest. Steve Davis hit a free kick to give the locals a brief lead, but the strong New Jersey State League team came back on goals by Jerry Cerrigione, Sal Russo and Vince Fasio. John Jasinski scored the other Prospect goal.

Sawchuck Top Shooter

SAUGERTIES

Brian Sawchuck, the individual leader in the latest Ulster County Circuit Shoot at the Saugerties Fish and Game range Sunday, led the host club to a convincing win in the team competition.

Sawchuck, along with Bob Sperl, Bob Kearney and Bob Carlson, hit 49 out of 50, and fifth man Mike Nichols scored 48, as Saugerties posted a 244 to finish far in front of the runnerup Wawarsing squad at 228.

Sawchuck's .980 mark with a run of 25 straight was also the best individual score of the day, but the shooting was good for many of the marksmen. The eighth place trio of Nichols, Paul Wirthmann and Russ Bogert finished with .930 scores, and Wirthmann and Bogert were the only members of the top ten without a run of 25 straight.

Ernie Miller grabbed the No. 2 spot with a .960 eye to edge Carlson's third place .953. Pushing that pair was Ray Markle who fired at a .943 clip, and he was barely ahead of Kearney and Tom Grossi who were deadlocked, in fifth at .940.

Sperl was alone in seventh with a .936.

The next Ulster County Circuit Shoot will be held August 31 at the Ridgerunners' club in West Saugerties.

Ulster Town GOP Picnic Aug. 24

Collection Hearings Slated

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two city councilmen have charged that New York has been including up to half a billion dollars in unpaid property taxes on its books and that they will hold hearings on the city's collection procedures.

Meanwhile, "the city got some good news Saturday as the Municipal Assistance Corp. voiced support for federal assumption of local welfare costs.

The charges, by Councilmen Thomas J. Cuite and Edward L. Sadowsky, followed a published report this weekend which said an audit by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt found the city included in its revenue estimates some $400 million in real estate taxes that were uncollectible.

Levitt's audit, to be released today, said the levies on public or diplomatic properties or those held by owners in precarious financial shape, were included on the books to create the illusion the city's budget was balanced.

The two councilmen alleged some $500 million in delinquent taxes was on the city's books and announced they would hold hearings on collection procedures.

Friday, Budget Director Melvin Lechner said the city was trying to end questionable budget methods and "whatever we are doing wrong will be changed."

Lechner was responding to the Levitt report. He did not specifically deny any of the charges, except to state "the budget is balanced."

Meanwhile, Felix Rohatyn, Big MAC's financial adviser, said the possibility of the federal government handling the welfare burden was raised by corporation officials Friday in meetings with federal officials in Washington.

Rohatyn said no firm decision was made on the proposal but added, "If a federal takeover could be accomplished, I know damn well we would have a viable city financially."

Princess Hiding

LONDON (UPI) — The princess whom President Idi Amin appointed as Uganda's foreign minister and then fired for an alleged tryst with a European has arrived secretly in Britain and gone into hiding.

The Daily Express reported today that Princess Elizabeth Bagaya planned to seek permission to stay permanently in Britain. The newspaper predicted it would be granted.

The Home Office said Sunday that the 30-year-old lawyer and former Vogue fashion model, also known as Elizabeth of Toro, has entered Britain, but declined to disclose her whereabouts. "We do not give out information about individuals," a spokesman said.

The princess, who spent three years as a roving ambassador for Amin and served as Ugandan foreign minister and United Nations representative for 10 months, was fired by Amin last year.

He accused her in public of wasting government funds, posing for nude photographs and finally with making love with a European, who Amin said was a secret agent, in a lavatory at Orly airport in Paris.

The princess denied the charges and slipped away from house arrest in Kampala, the Ugandan capital, to seek refuge with friends near Nairobi in neighboring Kenya early this year.

The Sunday Telegraph said Elizabeth has told friends that she wants to resume her career as an international model.

Reported Kidnaped

The 21-year-old son of the Board Chairman of the Seagram Liquor Company, Edgar Bronfam has telephoned his father to report he has been kidnaped, it was reported Sunday night in New York City. (UPI)

Obituaries

Memoriam

In loving memory of our father and grandfather, William Sickler, Sr., who passed away 10 years ago today, Aug. 11, 1965.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

Area Vols Sponsor Circus

The Highland Fire Department will sponsor the "Roberts Brothers Three Ring Circus" to be held in the Highland Municipal Parking Lot Friday evening Aug. 15. There will be two complete shows featuring trained animals, including an elephamt, acrobats, jugglers, clowns and unicycles. Show times are 6 and 8 p.m. Advance tickets can be purchased at a discount at Vaccaro's Market in Highland or from any Highland fireman.

Highland Fire Department responded to 10 alarms in June consuming approximately 100 volunteer man hours, in addition to normal maintenance and drills.

Fourteen members of the department recently completed a New York State Bureau of Fire course in pump operation. The firemen attending were: Assiatant Chief Louis Miller, Joseph Anzelone, J. Paul Castellano, Patrick Darcy, Richard Dunham, Robert Dunham, Charles Gentilquore, Peter Miller, Robert Post, James Rhodes, Robert Rhodes, Clarence Ronk, Clarence Ronk, Jr. and Lynne Williams. Also completing the course were fireman John Bauer of the Esopus Fire Department and Harold Tartell of the Milton Fire Department.

Fire In Accord

ACCORD

Fire early today apparently caused by a faulty light switch damaged one of three apartments in an apartment building on Route 209 in Accord. There were no injuries in the fire.

Accord Fire Chief Lowell Baker said the blaze, discovered at about 5:15 a.m., was confined to the apartment of Jay Martin, who was not home when the fire broke out. The apartment complex is owned by Clyde Gazlay.

Meanwhile, the contents of an upholstery workshop on Upper Shokan Road in Lamontville were destroyed early Sunday when fire of undetermined origin broke out. The workshop was owned by William Fleming. There were no injuries.

Our Plane In Havana

ATLANTA (UPI) — A spokesman for Southern Airways confirmed a Southern plane had landed in Havana Sunday, but he refused to say if the flight meant the Cuban government was about to return $2 million in skyjacked ransom.

He said, however, that he would "have a story one way or the other" today.

The spokesman said that "four or five of our planes" have flown to Havana in the past, carrying Southern Airways officials seeking to negotiate for the return of the money taken in a 1972 hijacking.

The State Department said in a statement on the ransom money last week that the "Cuban government has informed us that it wishes to dispose of the matter promptly."

The ransom was paid to hijackers after they commandeered a Southern DC9 shortly after its takeoff from Birmingham, Ala., on Nov. 10, 1972. The airliner hopscotched to four states and Canada before landing in Miami and then fleeing to Cuba in a hail of FBI bullets. Cuban officials confiscated the ransom when the plane landed in Havana.

Fire Under Control

IDYLLWILD, Calif. (UPI) — Firefighters Sunday controlled a 4,530-acre brush and timber fire that blazed across a seven-mile front in the San Jacinto Mountains, threatened two communities and cost an estimated $1 million in manpower and equipment to put out.

Officials said the blaze was started by a 10-year-old child playing with matches. Property damage was estimated at $700,000, including a $500,000 burned helicopter and three unoccupied structures.

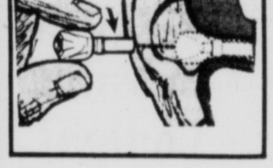

Flames broke out Friday morning south of Lake Hemet in an area that is part of the San Bernardino National Forest southwest of Palm Springs, Calif. Winds fanned the flames and the fire moved quickly in southerly direction.

Firefighters were hampered not only by the winds, but by temperatures of more than 100 degrees.

Some 150 residents of Thomas Mountain were evacuated Saturday and residents of Anza to the south of the fire were warned to prepare to evacuate.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market opened lower Monday in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average, a 1.95-point winner Friday, was off 1.72 points to 816.02 shortly after the opening. Declines led advances, 136 to 135, among the 398 issues crossing the tape.

Turnover amounted to about 410,000 shares.

Rising interest rates and inflation have played major parts in the market's first major correction following it sharp six month advance, according to analysts.

Shortly before the market opened, Chase Manhattan Bank and First National Bank of Chicago raised their prime rate to 7¾ per cent from the prevailing 7½ per cent rate.

Wall Street was surprised Friday when New York's First National City Bank made the same move following a decline in loan demands and evidence the Federal Reserve Board's recent credit tightening had moderated the nation's money supply growth rate from inflationary levels.

Short-term rates, which have risen the past several weeks, have produced higher yields and lower prices to make shortterm money instruments such as bonds more attractive than stocks. This is the reason volume has been light on the stock exchange.

The steel industry, meanwhile, is raising prices. U.S. Steel, the largest producer, announced an average increase of about 3.8 per cent on all products. It included about a 5.7 per cent rise in flat -rolled steel. This was lower than the 9 per cent raise Armco and Wheeling -Pittsburgh had proposed. The latter two postponed their increases late Friday to study the U.S. Steel plan.

Some investors were concerned the steel price increases would cause more inflation and blunt the economic recovery.

The Vanishing Breed

"Steamtrain" Maury Graham (R) and Frypan Jack enjy a ride on a hobo float during the annual National Hobo Convention held in Britt, Iowa over the weekend. Huundreds of boxcar-riding itinerants used to descend on this north-central Iowa town for the annual affair, but this year only 12 die-in-the-wool hoboes, remnants of a vanishing breed, showed up. Mystery Figure Vanishes

NEW YQRK (UPI) — A mystery figure in the Patricia Hearst investigation has vanished.

Jack Scott's brother, who reportedly gave information that led federal authorities to subpoena Scott and his wife in connection with the search for Miss Hearst, then later switched his allegiance to his brother, has disappeared, according to members of the Scott family.

The brother, Walter J. Scott, disappeared from a hotel lobby Thursday, the day he was to give a deposition to his brother's lawyers about alleged illegal FBI wiretaps and other activities in the investigation, Jack Scott told UPI Sunday.

John J. Scott, father of the two, said in his Las Vegas, Nev., home that Walter telephoned him Thursday night and said: "The FBI has me holed up and I can't get away." The father said he has heard no more from Walter.

"Walter told us he is afraid for his life," Jack Scott said. He told UPI he last saw his brother Thursday in the lobby of the New York Hilton Hotel.

"He went to make a telephone call to David Rack, an FBI agent who befriended him, to tell him — as a courtesy — that he planned to make a statement in our behalf," Jack said.

"I haven't seen him since. In fact, I still have his luggage."

The FBI and New York police both said Scott's disappearance had not been reported to them. A spokesman for the FBI said, "We would certainly not be a party to any abduction."

The FBI spokesman said he had no further comment on any aspect of Scott's story.

Jack Scott said his brother came to New York last week intending to tell Scott's attorneys, under oath, his knowledge of alleged illegal FBI wiretaps, intimidation and entrapment in the case involving Miss Hearst and the Scotts.

"We were going to meet a lawyer upstairs (in the hotel) to take his statement. Then he made that telephone call," Jack Scott said.

Sports activist Jack Scott is under subpoena to appear before a federal grand jury studying the Hearst case. He described his missing brother as a computer specialist who has worked for various federal intelligence and security agencies through private firms for the past 10 years.

Federal investigators have said they have evidence that fugitives associated with Miss Hearst stayed at a Pennsylvania farmhouse rented last summer by Jack Scott and his wife Micki.

Mrs. Scott was subpoened to appear before a grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa., last week but was granted a 10-day postponement. Jack faces a grand jury appearance Sept. 4. Both have said they plan not to "collaborate" with the federal inquiry.

Scott said Walter also has been subpoened and was to appear Aug. 19. Federal authorities in Pennsylvania and Washington refused comment.

Jack and Micki Scott staged a disappearance of their own this year while the FBI sought them. Surfacing nearly six weeks later, Jack said he believed his brother had been one of the FBI's sources of information.

Scott said Walter has performed work through subcontractors for the National Security Agency and the Supreme Allied Command of NATO in Europe. The elder Scott, however, declined comment about his son's activities.

In other developments during the weekend, the Los Angeles Times reported the FBI has offered as much as $200,000 plus immunity to persons with information leading to the fugitive heiress.

The newspaper said its sources reported the FBI discussed such a deal with the Scott brothers' father. John J. Scott said in New York last week he rejected a $200,000-plus-immunity offer, although details of his statement were denied by the FBI.

Candidates Want Probe

NEW PALTZ

Tom Nyquist, Barbara Pitt, Valerie Elderidge and Victor McCord, Democratic candidates for the Ulster County Legislature from District 8, have issued a joint statement endorsing the proposed resolution of legislators Louis M. Klein (D-Dist. 6) and Glenn R. Debrosky (R-Dist. 6) calling for a special committee of the legislature to conduct its own investigation of the Ulster County Highway Department.

The candidates said: "Although investigation by the district attorney into the allegations of misconduct on the part of the highway superintendent revealed 'no evidence of criminal wrongdoing,' Mr. Vogt did say that he had uncovered several instances where Mr. Camallonga used poor judgment and could properly be subject to criticism.

"Surely the legislature does not require evidence of criminal wrongdoing before it assumes more responsibility for the highway department. Certainly now is the time for the legislature to act, not only on behalf of the highway department employes, but also on behalf of Ulster County residents whose hard-earned tax dollars support that department.

"We urge the legislature to put party considerations aside and support the bipartisan resolution of Klein and Debrosky at the Aug. 14 meeting. That resolution will call for the reactivation of the investigative committee which so thoroughly examined the Sheriff's Department last year. A prompt and complete review of the highway department by that committee is assuredly in order and would be in the best interests of all."

Onteora Session Tonight

BOICEVILLE

The Onteora Board of Education will make a detailed presentation of the revised school budget at public meetings tonight at the Woodstock Elementary School and Tuesday, Aug. 12, at the Bennet Elementary School. Both meetings begin at 8 p. m.

The board of education has removed $333,000 from the budget defeated by the public in May, believing that the reductions will have a minimal impact on the educational program.

Major reductions were made in the planned balance ($130,000); capital projects ($34,500); employe benefits ($10,000); salary adjustments due to retirements and resignations ($40,000); and building allocations for materials, supplies and equipment ($25,000).

Dr. Frank M. Marlow, superintendent of schools, said the district has been operating under austerity since July 1. The difference between the revised budget and an austerity budget is $200,000.

Ellenville Screening Scheduled

The Ellenville Elementary School will conduct a kindergarten screening and registration program Wednesday, Aug. 27, in the elementary library.

Those who have been notified by the school are asked to come at the scheduled time. For those who have not been notified, "open" screening and registration begins at noon. This program is for students not able to particpate in the June 2-6 session.

The program is to identify children with hearing, vision, speech, and motor control problems. Information gained at screenings will help school personal evaluate each child's strength and weaknesses in areas felt to be essential to successful school experience.

Parents are urged to bring proof of age (children must be five by Dec. 1, 1975, to enter kindergarten in September), proof of inoculation for DPT, polio, rubella, and measles. Children should come dressed in play clothes.

Williams Press Closes

MENANDS, N.Y. (UPI) — About 900 employes are out of work today because Williams Press, Inc., closed down its suburban Albany production plant this weekend.

The Menands plant is the company's only production facility.

A company spokesman said the loss of several major printing contracts had prompted the closing. He said company officials were "in the process of deciding whether these developments will permit the continued operation" of the company.

Among other contracts, the firm had printed regional editions of Business Week and Time magazines.

Film Offered

The film "Hassles and Hang-ups" 0 concerning common juvenile problems relating to authority—is being offered for showing to area groups through the juvenile aid division of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

Thomas Johnson, director of the juvenile aid division, explained that the film is directed to the concerned adult. Groups interested in viewing the film should contact Ms. Maureen McCloskey at the juvenile aid division.

Director Named

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Kent Barwick, director of the New York City Municipal Art Society, has been appointed director of the State Council on the Arts.

Gov. Hugh L. Carey said Saturday that Barwick, 34, will succeed Eric Larrabee as chief administrative officer of the council at $35,000 a year. Larrabee made $8,000 a year more than that.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION
Ulster Fire District No. 1 of the Town of Ulster,
Ulster County, New York

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to Section 38.00 of the Local Finance Law and Section 179 of the Town Law, a special election of the qualified voters of the Ulster Fire District No. 1 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, will be held at the Spring Lake Fire House located at Lucas Avenue Extension, in Ulster, New York, in said Fire District, on the 26th day of August, 1975, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock P.M., and 10:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, for the purpose of voting on the adoption or rejection of the following bond resolution:

BOND RESOLUTION DATED AUGUST 4th, 1975.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A 1000 GPM PUMPER FIRE TRUCK FOR THE ULSTER FIRE DISTRICT NO. 1 OF THE TOWN OF ULSTER, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, AT A MAXIMUM ESTIMATED COST OF $76,000, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $76,000 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID FIRE DISTRICT TO PAY THE COST THEREOF.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Ulster Fire District No. 1 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. The purchase of a 1000 gpm pumper fire truck, including apparatus used in connection therewith, at a maximum estimated cost of $76,000, is hereby authorized.

Section 2. The plan for the financing of such maximum estimated cost is by the issuance of $76,000 serial bonds of said Fire District, hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the Local Finance Law. Further details concerning said bonds will be prescribed in a further resolution or resolutions of this Board of Fire Commissioners.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that subdivision 27 of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law applies to the aforesaid specific object or purpose, and that the period of probable usefulness thereof is ten years.

Section 4. The faith and credit of said Ulster Fire District No. 1 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property of said Fire District, a tax without limitation as to rate or amount sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Fire District Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said Fire District Treasurer, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:
1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Fire District is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGES IN TELEPHONE RATE SCHEDULES

Notice is hereby given that the following proposed offering of the new COM KEY® 1434 System has been filed with the Public Service Commission to be effective September 15, 1975.

The COM KEY 1434 System is a key telephone system with a capacity of 14 lines and 34 telephone instruments. All instruments are multi-button desk type telephones in ivory color, each equipped to pick up all the lines terminating in the system. The lines appear in the same sequence at each instrument.

The basic features of the system are pick-up, hold, winking hold illumination, three dial intercommunicating paths, voice signaling, tone ringing, button restoration, multi-line conferencing, recall, privacy and privacy release.

The optional features of the system are three zone paging, music-on-hold, station restriction, power failure transfer, night transfer, intercom pre-set conference, attendant consoles and TOUCH-TONE® Calling Service (subject to availability of facilities).

The COM KEY 1434 System is furnished under two rate options, designated Option 1 and Option 2. Under Option 1, the monthly rates for the service and facilities apply as long as the facilities are in service. These rates are subject to rate changes. A minimum charge of 12 months applies.

Under Option 2 the monthly rates for the service and facilities consist of two parts "A" and "B." The "A" part of the monthly rates in effect on the date of installation of the service will apply without change for a period of 4 years from that date. The "B" part of the monthly rates will apply, subject to change, for the life of the installation. Termination charges specified in the Tariff apply to service and facilities furnished under Option 2.

If the provision of COM KEY 1434 facilities to new subscribers is discontinued, service to existing subscribers who have had the service for eight years or more may be discontinued.

Rates and Charges

The following rates and charges are in addition to (1) the tariff rates and charges for the individual, auxiliary, WATS, Centrex, Centralized Switching Service and PBX station lines terminating in the system and (2) the rates and charges for supplemental equipment associated with the system. All equipment and features must be billed to a single subscriber.

NOTICE OF FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT
ON THE ENVIRONMENT

Re: Reconstruction and Rehabilitation of approximately 7500 LF portion of the Clinton Avenue-Greenkill Avenue-Washington Avenue 16" trunk line water mains.

Notice is hereby given that the City of Kingston, New York in accordance with Environmental Review Procedures for Community Development Block Grant Program, has performed all necessary steps of the environmental review process pertaining to the above-mentioned rehabilitation of water trunk mains, leading to the finding that said project is not an action which may significantly affect the quality of human environment.

It has been determined that alternatives to the project are inefficient, ineffective, or a wasteful expenditure of resources. The minor adverse conditions existing during project construction are short term and can be mitigated by employing regular inspection procedures and adequate construction safeguards.

The City of Kingston has made an Environmental Review Record respecting the project which may be examined and copied at the Office of Planning Director, City Hall, 1 Meadow Street, Kingston, New York during regular business hours. No further environmental review of said project is proposed to be conducted. The City of Kingston intends to request the Department of Housing and Urban Development to release funds for implementation of said project.

Comments may be submitted to the City of Kingston until September 2, 1975.

Your Astrograph

For Tuesday, Aug. 12, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll do your best thinking today if you're under pressure or put on the spot, especially in relation to your work.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Some interesting information will be passed on to you today through a chance social encounter. It will cause you to revise a decision.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's a good day to work on something you consider more of a hobby than a chore. The results will please you, and others, too.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be very vibrant today and others will find you pleasant company. Get out and spread some sunshine.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're a prudent shopper for household and family needs today. Those pennies will have a surprising way of adding up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You can find a buyer today for a possession you no longer need. Offer fair price. The sale will be wrapped up quickly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll discover a small hidden profit in something you thought had nothing of value, provided you take the time to look.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You tend to do things on impulse today, but they'll somehow work out. Stay loose. Keep an optimistic attitude.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A small but thoughtful act you'll perform for one less fortunate will not go unobserved. It will make you look big in their eyes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone who lives a considerable distance from you will be getting in touch unexpectedly to tell of some unusual news.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) By using your head today in business ventures you can easily outdistance competitors. Think carefully before acting.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You have the ability to grasp facts quickly that others may overlook. In partnership matters, take a hand in decision-making.

Your Birthday

Aug. 12, 1975

An opportunity to increase your resources will be offered to you this year through a family contact. No large profits, but you could make a tidy sum.

Jean Adams TEEN FORUM

By Dr. Jean Adams

SMILE: (Comment). I look at life with a smile. My friends and I get together at a little store where I work part time. We have a lot of fun there, but they think I'm crazy because I want to walk the mile and a half home.

I do not think I'm crazy for liking the summer night with its warm breeze, its lovely bright-lit sky, the smell of the forest.

I love life, this wonderful gift. What more could I want. As I look forward I see only happiness. How beautiful this thing called life. Did you know the more you smile the more smiles you will get? I am 18 and I like it. — David W. Pressley, Fort Mill, S.C.

(A.) Few write me letters like yours. Most of the letters I get are negative. Yours is all positive. Positive is the way to be. Life is good. The world we live in is good. Maybe your letter will help some of those who read it to appreciate the gift of life. Thank you for writing it.

ANOTHER? (Q.) Bob is really a nice person around me. He tells me he loves me. We haven't had sex and don't plan on it. Not now, anyway. But I was told by friends that he was two-timing me. I should have believed them.

Yesterday I saw him with another girl. He came to see me today. I told him to get lost but I didn't mean it. Please tell me what I can do. Please! — Crying in Alabama

(A.) You didn't even give Bob a chance. You judged him and condemned him without hearing his side. You are guilty of snap judgment and of unnecessary cruelty. Call him and apologize. Ask him to meet you for a heart-to-heart talk.

(Write to Dr. Jean Adams, care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Every letter is read, but because of the great number received Dr. Adams cannot send personal answers.)

End Play Locks Up Contract

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Test Your Bridge" by Victor Mollo is a paperback concerned with fairly simple problems in play. He doesn't tell you how to bid the hands, which is just as well, because his British-type bidding is not easy to understand in this country. Thus, we will try to bid Victor's contracts in an American way."

Jim: "Victor has two questions on the play of the hand. He says, 'You go after trumps. How do you play them?' The answer is that you play the ace of trumps first to guard against the chance that all three trumps are held by West."

Oswald: "He then asks if you can be sure of your contract once you find there is no trump loser."

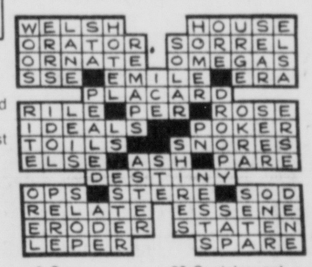

Jim: "The answer to that one is an unqualified affirmative. You simply drop the enemy's last trump, cash the high hearts and lead a diamond. The opponents take two diamonds and then must either lead a spade or give you a ruff and discard. If they lead a spade they finesse themselves."

One Way to Mars . . . $1 a Mile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — It costs $1 a mile to fly to Mars.

That's one way, for robots only.

So when the first of two Viking spaceships leaves Florida — scheduled for 4:59 p.m. EDT today — for a year-long search for life on the red planet, the meter will start spinning.

It will stop at about 505 million miles after a round-about trip to the planet 230 million miles away. A second Viking, leaving 10 days later, will follow the same route.

The tab for American taxpayers will be $1 billion.

Is this trip necessary?

Yes, says Dr. Gerald Soffen, project scientist for the Viking mission which has been seven years in the making.

"If we find any form of life, it will cause an explosion about thoughts about ourselves, our importance in the cosmos, and accelerate all space programs, including eventual manned landings on planets," Soffen said.

"A real honest-to-God discovery of life on Mars would be more important than anything NASA (the National Aeronautics and Space Administration) has ever dreamed of before."

Robert Kraemer, NASA's director of planetary programs, said Viking is "far and away the most ambitious unmanned mission ever attempted by anyone."

He admits it's also the most expensive.

Is it worth it?

"We're going to have to wait a year to answer that," he said. "The answer that counts is in the minds of the American taxpayer and people around the world."

The lead Viking, with an American flag and the emblem of the nation's bicentennial celebration emblazoned on its side, is programmed to touch down at a place called Chryse (Greek for gold) on July 4, 1976, the country's 200th birthday.

"We said from the start we're not going to compromise the mission to land on that date," Kraemer said. "Actually, we can land a few days earlier or a few days later."

If all goes well, the two Vikings, borne aloft by Titan Centaur rockets, will send landers to the surface of Mars with the help of parachutes and retrorockets. These miniature automated laboratories will scoop up and test soil, transmit pictures and relay information about the planet's atmosphere and weather.

Dr. Harold Klein, biology team leader for the probe, believes there is only a one-in-50 chance life forms will be found.

But Dr. Crofton Farmer, a British-born scientist on the Viking team at California's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, thinks it's an even bet.

"I think the chances of finding life, either past or present, are very high, better than 50-50," he said. "If we do find life, it would certainly be a new stimulus to space travel."

DEAD AT 68

Renowned Soviet composer Dimitry Shostakovich is dead at the age of 68. His daughter says Shostakovich died of a heart attack in Moscow Saturday. The famed composer was alternately praised and denounced by the Soviet government. Western critics praise him as a towering if sometimes erratic composer. (UPI)

Nixon Interview Planned

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Former President Richard Nixon may talk about Watergate in a "no-holds-barred" 90-minute television segment with English television personality David Frost — but the broadcasts won't be aired until after the 1976 presidential election.

Frost, a former talk show host, told reporters at a news conference Sunday Nixon signed a 15-page contract that specifies the former president will talk about Watergate.

"The former President has neither requested nor has he received any editorial control," Frost said, "whether in terms of the content or editing of the programs, the use of newsreel footage or by way of prior knowledge of any of the questions.

"No subject, including Watergate, has been barred."

Frost said Nixon agreed to more than 20 taping sessions. The tapings, at his San Clemente, Calif., home later this year, will run as four 90-minute segments and will be aired internationally after the 1976 elections.

"The amount of money involved is confidential," Frost said. "I'm relying on Mr. Nixon's word that he would speak out in candor. I cannot even give you a ballpark figure on the financial arrangements."

According to Frost, he was acting on behalf of an international consortium of broadcasting organizations. But he refused to name the broadcasters or the networks.

"I have a number of verbal agreements with broadcasters," he said. "I won't say who until they are signed."

The contract for the tapings was signed at Nixon's home Saturday night after a five-hour discussion with Frost and Nixon's agent, Irving Lazar.

Hoffa Lead 'Fishy'

DETROIT (UPI) — What had looked like the most promising lead of the FBI's investigation into the disappearance of former Teamsters boss James Hoffa has turned out to be nothing but dried fish blood.

It left agents today concentrating on tips pouring in from throughout the country.

An FBI analysis of bloodstains found in a car believed involved in the case showed the blood was not human but came from a frozen fish carried in the vehicle the day Hoffa disappeared, sources close to the investigation said.

Elimination of that lead, a setback in the 12-day-old search for Hoffa, was thought likely to prompt U.S. Attorney Ralph Guy Jr. to launch a federal grand jury probe into Hoffa's whereabouts.

Guy previously received the go-ahead from Justice Department officials to place the Hoffa case before a federal grand jury already seated in Detroit.

The FBI had scheduled its first news briefing in the case for later today.

Hoffa, 62-year-old former president of the 2.2 million-member Teamsters Union, was fighting to regain his former post when he disappeared July 30.

He was last seen in the parking lot of the Machus Red Fox, a suburban restaurant where Hoffa was to meet with reputed Mafia leader Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone and two other men. The restaurant is halfway between Hoffa's Lake Orion home and Detroit.

Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien, Hoffa's foster son and a key figure in the investigation, told the FBI he borrowed a car from Giacalone's son, Joe, to deliver frozen salmon to the wife of Detroit Teamsters offical Robert Holmes the morning Hoffa disappeared.

FBI agents seized young Giacalone's 1975 car Saturday after they learned of bloodstains in the front seat. But both O'Brien and Giacalone told the FBI the stains were dried fish blood and called the FBI's action harassment.

"If everybody would get over this Ellery Queen stuff and get serious about finding the man who is missing we would all be better off," O'Brien said.

O'Brien, believed by Hoffa's family to be connected with Hoffa's disappearance, has ignored requests he take a lie detector test. He told UPI Sunday he is remaining silent at FBI insistence but would like to speak out and clear his name.

Two Children Killed In Northern Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — The worst Northern Ireland religious rioting in four years has wrecked a Roman Catholic neighborhood, killed two children and threatened the six-month-old cease-fire.

Britain's minister for Northern Ireland summoned his security advisers today for a briefing on the situation in the province following bloody rioting that claimed three lives.

Officials said the meeting of Northern Ireland Secretary Merlyn Rees, British Army and police chiefs centered on measures to prevent renewed outbreaks of street fighting.

An Army statement issued today said 28 separate shooting incidents — several of them major gunbattles between snipers and soldiers — had been reported in the province in a six-hour period ending shortly after midnight. Since then calm has prevailed, it said.

The statement said five persons had been hospitalized in Belfast with gunshot wounds, and several dozen others were known to have been treated for minor injuries.

British troops patrolling the 20-foot-high barrier dividing the Protestant Shankhill Road section and the Catholic Falls Road district were caught between the rival crowds.

Police said a 4-year-old Catholic girl was killed in a crossfire between British troops and Catholic snipers. Authorities said a sniper gunned down a 15-year-old Catholic boy fleeing a British patrol.
